Heroes to victims

Two men rescue 5 adults, infant from trapped car

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

A five-month-old baby was among six shivering, stranded motorists who were rescued from their half-buried automobile by two local men during the height of the recent near-record blizzard Jan. 27.

Craig Woods, 30, of Romulus, and Dennis Lorenz, 34, of Westland, emerged as heroes when they used a snowmobile to snatch the shivering group from the jaws of the cruel elements.

Even the Michigan National Guard failed to bring them to safety when its six-wheel-drive troop carrier slid into a ditch and became half buried in snow just outside the west border of Canton Township.

Woods and Lorenz, working in conjunction with Wayne County Sheriff's Starship Command CB radio network, praised the newly-formed program for its effectiveness.

Woods, who lives at 10959 S. Wayne Rd., in Romulus, recounts the rescue.

"Dennis and I were on my CB base station all Thursday evening on Jan. 26, assisting where we could, giving out information and traveler's advisories," he recalled.

"We also picked up stranded motorists with my 4-wheel drive Ford Bronco."

Woods said Ada DeLisle, 30, of Romulus, helped on the home base, giving out information all night long.

About 2:30 p.m. Friday morning I was taking Dennis back to his home in Westland when I received a call from Ada over my CB radio that the Wayne County Sheriff Department had contacted her," Woods explained.

"She relayed the message over channel 19 that there were some people in trouble on Prospect Road near Geddes Road, just west of Canton."

"My four-wheel-drive Bronco almost stalled several times from snow flying up into the engine, but we made it to the scene. A man there informed us that six people were stranded in a Blazer which had slid off into a ditch on Prospect, about a half-mile from Geddes."

Lorenz, 1280 Easley, Westland, smoothed a path on his first round trip and then rescued the five-month-old girl and her mother. Then he picked up the second young woman, also in her early twenties.

As he was rescuing the first of three young men, two other men arrived with snowmobiles and helped finish taking the people to safety.

The six persons taken to safety live in Washtenaw County and Sheriff's officers there refused to divulge the names of those rescued. They gave no reason for not releasing the names.

The half-don had been stranded in the half-buried Blazer from midnight until they were picked up at 4:30 a.m.

Romulus man aids rescue

When the Michigan National Guard couldn't get through to rescue six snowbound motorists during the Jan. 27 blizzard, Craig Woods, of Romulus, (left) and Westland's Dennis Lorenz accomplished the feat. Aided by Starship Command, Wayne County's volunteer civilian CB radio network, the doctory pair used Woods' four-wheel-drive Bronco and a snowmobile to deliver the snow-trapped half dozen persons. Included in the six were a five-month-old baby girl and five adults in their early twenties. Wayne County Sheriff's deputies praised Woods and Lorenz for their heroic efforts as well as those who assisted on their CB radio units.

Slap on wrist at worst

Audit reveals errors

A preliminary draft of the recent examination of Romulus financial records by state auditors disclosed findings as divided as the charges which brought the investigation.

Although the preliminary report was not for public release, copies of the document are reported to have been sent to the two metropolitan dailies in a plain brown wrapper and unsigned.

Copies of the report were in the possession of the mayor, clerk, treasurer, and seven council members.

The audit, conducted by the state Treasury Department's local audit division, was instigated last fall by Terry Troutt who made certain allegations against James Stewart, then mayor of Romulus, as the two candidates traded accusations during the hard-hitting mayoral campaign. Stewart, made allegations against John Lewkowicz, former treasurer, who was defeated in the last election.

For that matter, all three suffered defeat at the polls last fall with Stewart and Troutt losing in the mayor's race to William Oakley and Helen Gallien winning the treasurer's post.

Present city officials are not happy with the preliminary findings and will accept the offer of A.G. Rochon, deputy director, to discuss the report.

Mayor William Oakley was scheduled to bring the matter before city council at last night's meeting to ask that body for direction in setting up a meeting with the local audit division.

Oakley said the meeting probably would be held sometime next week.

Two important findings in the report concerned City Clerk Leonard Folmar and the late William Munger, who was paid $10,000 by Troutt in 1974 for legal services rendered.

The report stated City Council approved the payment on April 25, 1976, 13 days after the check was issued and the auditors found bills representing the legal services.

Their conclusion, however, was that the payment was legal.

Folmar was charged with improper handling of funds taken in from the 1975 and 1976 city golf outings.

Although receipts showed that Folmar took in $2,800, he deposited only $1,540, leaving a shortage of $1,260.

On April 6, 1976 Folmar received a loan of $2,156 from his city pension fund, part of which was used to cover the shortage. The report stated the loan was improper because "the Romulus pension fund does not authorize loans to employees from pension plan funds."

Homes costly

Whatever the problems of home ownership—climbing property taxes, inflated fuel bills, unavailability of reliable services—concern about them tends to fade away as April 15 approaches. And this week the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants takes a look at the consequences of home ownership. See story on Page A-5.

Huron band students to compete with peers

By MAUREEN CAMPS
ANP Staff Writer

The cream of the crop of Huron High School band students will join fellow top musicians from six neighboring school districts in a Co-op Six Honors Band concert Sunday at Huron High School.

The concert will begin at 3 p.m. at the high school, 32044 Huron River Dr., New Boston. A small admission price will be charged to concertgoers.

According to Scott Ludwig, band director at Huron, about 17 to 20 Huron students will participate, selected for the honor by the band director.

Other schools participating are Airport, Grosse Ile, Gibraltar Carlson, Flat Rock and Woodhaven high schools. Only the most highly qualified 20 students from each school take part.

This is the fifth annual concert for the group, which was formed as a cooperative education program, Ludwig said.

The aim is to give those top students challenging music to perform under the directorship of a noted guest conductor. This year, the conductor will be Professor Norman C. Dietz, conductor of bands at Central Michigan University. Ludwig said that Dietz is in great demand as guest conductor and speaker. The professor's list of credentials include degrees from Central Michigan University and Michigan State University, with additional advanced study at University of Iowa. He was also awarded a conducting fellowship by the University of Wisconsin. Dietz is presently instrumental coordinator of the CMU music department.

He is also conducting the last three rehearsals of the six-school group.

According to Ludwig, the 120 students rehearse about six times before the annual concert, with all rehearsals but one on their own time after schools, in the evenings and on weekends. The last rehearsal is Saturday. Practices, have been at Huron. Since most of the work is during non-school hours, the honors band coalition is somewhat of an extra curricular activity, Ludwig said. Students combine talent with the desire to achieve excellence in performing, he said.

Ed Baum honored

Long-time Romulus High School athletic director Ed Baum was honored Friday night during half-time ceremonies of the basketball game with Alpena. A reception was held after the game in which approximately 100 well-wishers came by the Romulette room to express

Gas company asks checking of meters

The rigors of wintry ice and snow have prompted Consumers Power Company (CPC) to send a letter Feb. 1 to its customers urging cooperation in checking outside gas meters or gas shut-off valves.

The CPC letter advised that snow and ice on outside gas equipment "could cause an excessive pressure buildup resulting in a malfunction of your gas utilization equipment."

Also cited was wintry conditions making it impossible to reach the gas shut-off valve in an emergency and damage to both the gas shut-off and gas meter by snow removal equipment, resulting in gas leaks.

"We, therefore, recommend that you periodically inspect the outside gas meter installation and shut-off valve and uncover it if it is covered with snow or ice," the letter explained.

The letter concluded by asking customers to questions to call 549-5000, extension 337, and to ask for a CPC representative to discuss them with.

"Rocking chair" pay for those quitting jobs?

A special Michigan House committee studying the impact of "voluntary quits" on Michigan's unemployment compensation system has scheduled a series of public hearings, including one in Westland, it was announced by state Rep. Thomas H. Brown (D-Westland), committee vice-chairman.

The Westland public hearing will be Monday, Feb. 13, at Westland City Hall, 36601 Ford Rd., beginning at 10 a.m.

The special ad-hoc committee is reviewing employment security law to determine if workers who voluntarily quit their jobs should, under certain conditions, be entitled to unemployment compensation.

Present law disqualifies persons from unemployment benefits for 13 weeks if they quit their jobs without cause attributable to their employer.

"There are two sides to the issue of voluntary quits," Brown said. "On the one side, there are those who feel it is unfair to pay unemployment compensation to those who quit their jobs because the system is designed to provide income replacement for those who are out of work through no fault of their own. They want the law tougher.

"However, there are those who feel the law is too punitive, since people can be disqualified from benefits after being placed in a position where they have to quit. They feel that these people are not protected because of the way the system is run."

The special committee will be working to attempt to make the law more specific, Brown said. "In investigating the issue," he added, "the committee is seeking the views of business and labor interests and the public, so that it can make meaningful recommendations to the Legislature."

Other public hearings will be in Battle Creek, Pontiac, Grand Rapids, and Saginaw.

Funds sought for criminal justice units

Chairman John Barr of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has wired Gov. Milliken, seeking a share of the pending state fiscal surplus for Wayne County criminal justice programs.

for services, particularly within the City of Detroit, have escalated. Our criminal justice system costs jumped from $37 million in 1972 to $77 million in 1977.

Barr's appeal asked for one-year funding of eight special programs under the control of the prosecuting attorney and the sheriff totaling $2,374,425.

All were scheduled for cuts last fall when the Board of Commissioners started budget deliberations. Some were partially restored.

In the appeal to the governor, Barr said: "The County of Wayne is caught in a desperate fiscal dilemma. We are caught in an economic vise that is squeezing tighter and tighter each year. We have pared down services, reducing our total payroll from 7,300 to 5,300 in the last five years. Our property tax revenues have increased only 15 percent since 1972.

"Yet the cost of living index has risen by nearly 40 percent! At the same time, demands

Barr described Wayne County's plight as a "continuing series of crises" with no prospect of relief because the county has no option for local tax other than the property tax. Unless some means of relief are provided further service cuts will be mandatory, he said.

The programs that would be funded under Barr's proposal are the Sheriff's Metro Narcotics Squad ($402,665); the Sheriff's Metro Helicopter Patrol ($240,875); the Sheriff's Township Road Patrol ($728,685); Sheriff's Community Relations Division ($100,250); Sheriff's Special Jail Services ($105,155); Prosecuting Attorney's Organized Crime Task Force ($484,555); Prosecuting Attorney's Management Information System ($67,435); and Consumers Protection Agency ($244,855).

'Countdown' will survey tax returns

Are social security benefits taxable? Do tax preparers have to give clients copies of their returns? Will the usual April 15 federal income tax filing deadline really give way to an April 17 rush?

Tax questions like these, as well as inquiries from any citizen wishing advice, will be answered on Channel 56 as it links up with other Michigan public television stations to present "Countdown April 17." This special evening of televised tax help, originating at the Detroit station, will be Tuesday.

Viewers from around the state will be able to phone in their tax questions to a team of more than 80 IRS experts and tax researchers. People who tune in also will see a new "Viewers' Tax Test," in which changes and complexities in the tax laws will be explained by the quiz method.

The evening starts at 7:30 p.m. with a half-hour program to open the lines for questions and explain the new tax laws which will affect filers. Then, while regular programming resumes, viewers can continue to call in their questions.

During lengthened station breaks at 8:50 and 9:50 p.m., the IRS will make reports on those questions asked most often by viewers calling in.

Finally, at 11 p.m., "Countdown April 17" will feature another 30-minute program that will wrap up the whole evening's proceedings.

What official information about me might
I ever need?

When accurate information is needed to fill out forms and announcements, it is often hard to locate or remember. You need all sorts of information when you marry, buy insurance, apply for credit or a job, and, yes, even when death occurs.

It is wise to prepare such a total record now and keep it in a safe place... not in a safety deposit box because they are usually locked until after the funeral, but rather in a locked drawer of your desk. Do, however, inform your spouse of where this information may be found.

Information most often needed includes: 1) full name, address, Social Security number, armed forces serial number, 2) birthdate and place, 3) blood type, 4) employer records, 5) name of father's and mother's birthplace and date, 6) names of organizations and publications to be notified, 7) location of important documents, 8) any special funeral preferences or pre-arrangements, 9) pre-arranged donation of eyes or body organs, 10) names and addresses of all persons to be notified of your death.

APPLIANCES, TOO!

26th District seat will be filled Feb. 16

By MAUREEN CAMPS
ANP Staff Writer

Residents of Belleville, Van Buren, Canton and Sumpter townships, the cities of Wayne, Plymouth, and part of Westland, who live in the 27th county commissioner district, will have a new representative Feb. 16.

On that day, the members of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners will vote to appoint a person to fill the vacant seat that resulted when Royce Smith resigned the job Jan. 20. The former Belleville mayor and two-term commissioner quit the $17,500 a year commissioner job to become head of the Wayne County Board of Public Works. His yearly salary there will be $35,000.

Another commissioner, Chester Wozniak of Hamtramck, also resigned his commissioner job to take a place with Smith on the public works board. His vacant seat, too, will have to be filled.

Carrier of the Week

Wayne Eagle carrier Carol Shurlow has been serving the 81 customers on her route along Washington, Chamberlain, First, Second, Third and Brush streets for five years and has been recognized as this week's Carrier of the Week.

Carol, who graduates from Wayne Memorial High School this June, is a track star at the high school, excelling in the 1 and 2-mile runs.

The 17-year-old, who lives on Washington Street, plans on attending Oakland University, where she will take up studies in medical technology.

Carol Shurlow

D.C. tour planned

Associated Newspapers will sponsor a tour to Washington, D.C., April 7 through April 9 and is now accepting reservations. Those persons interested in making the trip to the nation's capital are asked to call Gene Wertz, ANP circulation director, at 729-4000. Wertz, long noted in the area for his directorship of tours throughout the United States and the world, will serve as tour director.

The tour is open to persons of all ages, both couples and singles, and will cost $230 per person, double occupancy. Included in the price are air fare, hotel accommodations, meals, admissions, surface travel, baggage handling and tips. Due to the popularity of the Washington tour, early reservations are urged.

Jan McMurtrie supervises placement of Big Bird by student Alice Campbell

The remaining 25 members of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners will nominate, then elect, the replacements for those two seats Feb. 16, but only until a special election can be held in the two districts within 90 days to fill the unexpired terms. Both terms last until the end of this year.

The elections will cost the county $100,000, according to Chairman John Barr. In each district, there will have to be special primary and general elections.

That cost is the reason Barr gives for supporting a proposed law, which was passed in the House and awaits a Senate vote in the Michigan Legislature, which would eliminate the requirement for a special election.

The law would allow the board of commissioners to fill such vacancies by appointment alone, without need of a subsequent special election, during election years.

As it is, the two terms would expire at the end of this year anyway, and new commissioners will be selected by citizens through the late summer primary and November elections.

Barr reasoned, that since the county is under the current law required to hold elections within 90 days, the new commissioners elected by citizens may end up serving only three months before the August or September primary.

It is conceivable that in the next year, there could be three different persons consecutively holding the job — one appointed by the board Feb. 16, another elected by the people in a special election, and a third who would take office Jan. 1 elected by the people in the regular elections.

However, the law is that the special election must be held as long as there are six months remaining in the term in question.

Although the board of commissioners had instructed its attorney, general government committee and election scheduling committee to meet and come up with the earliest feasible special election dates, Barr is clearly hoping that the House bill will pass and take effect before that. If so, no special election would have to be held, and the seat would belong to the appointee until a new representative is elected at the end of this year.

A person must be nominated by a county commissioner at the Feb. 16 meeting to be considered for the appointment, but already a list of candidates has emerged. These people have expressed interest in being appointed to the job.

Three Canton Township residents interested in taking the post are Bob Myers, James Poole and Walter Hink. Myers is currently a member of the township board of trustees and is president of the Michigan Mobile Homeowners Association. Poole is a former township trustee and retired Army major. Hink is an attorney who lost the Democratic nomination for the job to Smith in the last commissioner election.

Other candidates are: Maurice Breen, a Plymouth Township attorney; R. William Joyner, administrative assistant to Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara; Fred Montgomery, a local union official at Wayne County General Hospital; and Eugene O'Grady, retired Wayne County Sheriff's deputy.

Filling the air

More than 250 helium-filled balloons were sent skyward Friday by students from St. Aloysius Catholic School in Romulus. The elementary school, 37200 Neville, took part in "Catholic Schools Week" with a five-day calendar of events to mark the occasion. Friday capped the week's activity when the colored balloons were sent aloft carrying the message: "This is Catholic Schools Week. If you find my balloon, please let me know." The student's name, and the name, address and phone number of the school were enclosed. Although the balloons started out in a southwesterly direction over Belleville, two of the rubber objects came to earth in Pennsylvania. First grader Chris Edwards, 15345 Orchard, Romulus, had his inflated oval found in Millville, Penna., 90 miles north of Harrisburg. Christina Thomas, an eighth grader, of 32272 Henry Ruff, Romulus, had her balloon come to rest in Zelienople, Penna., some 40 miles north of Pittsburgh. The individuals who found the balloons called and told of their discoveries. — ANP photos.

Wave of the future RHS observes Voc Ed Week

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Many educators believe vocational education is the wave of the future in high school curricula.

And Romulus is setting a standard that the rest of the state is using as a model in its efforts to obtain optimum results.

As National Educational Vocational Education Week is celebrated Feb. 12-18, Romulus High School again has a wide variety of displays which depicts the scope of occupational training available to local high schoolers.

Under the guidance of E.L. Sheffield, director of career and vocational education, and Pat Gresock, coordinator for Vocational Education Week, great strides have been taken to construct a program that is emulated around the state.

Filmstrips of Romulus High School's vocational programs have been copied and are in use by high schools in many areas of Michigan.

"We're naturally very proud of the programs we have developed here," said Sheffield, "and it's a great source of pride that other school districts have thought enough of our efforts to use them as a guideline."

This year's theme for National Vocational Education Week is "Your Professional Commitment Builds the Skills of America". Parents, business people and other interested citizens of the community are invited to tour the high school facilities from 8:15 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from 12 to 1:15 Monday through Friday next week.

More than 940 students are involved in the high school's vocational education program.

"We have worked very hard, teachers and students alike, in decorating bulletin boards and filling showcases with displays that depict the various vocational training available," said Mrs. Gresock, who has done the lion's share of the preparation work.

Also highly involved in Pat's husband, Mike, who helped her last year and is irresistibly drawn to assist her each year. Mike, who is a post office supervisor in Livonia, comes up with a novel idea annually to zero in on some theme of the vocational program.

This year, Mike has built a Dream Machine, which will be on display in the high school main lobby along with many other exhibits. The Dream Machine is a four by six-foot box which consists of levers, knobs, gauges and flashing lights.

On interesting-looking gears are printed all the vocational classes being offered at the senior high. Two manikins, a boy and a girl, are posed as they are about to enter the "In" door. A third manikin emerges from the "Really In" door dressed in a conglomerate of vocational occupations.

It should be one of the highlights of the week.

"A spirit of cooperation and unity is swelling throughout the building as preparations for Romulus Vocational Week get underway," Mrs. Gresock said. Arrangements for a visit can be made with Mrs. Gresock by calling 941-2170, ext. 40.

Tours will be conducted through the different class areas, said Mrs. Gresock, who works unceasingly each year to make the week a big success.

Many eventful projects are planned for this coming week. The Cosmetology class will offer free consultations, shampoos and sets to visitors.

The commercial foods program will serve tasty free meals. Health Occupations class will check your blood pressure and body temperature with the newest equipment.

Data processing students will chart your bio-rhythms and map your energies, moods and intellect for the next 90 days. In-school building trades class will have a model exhibit in the lobby, a miniature scale model of a house being built at 37625 Tyler Road in Romulus.

There will also be a month-long exhibit at the Romulus Public Library.

All in all, it will be a very active, beneficial week for the vocational education students at Romulus High School and interested residents.

From Feb. 12-17, Romulus High School will observe National Vocational Education Week and numerous exhibits, displays and events have been planned by Mrs. Pat Gresock, coordinator of the week's activities. A record contest, based on titles of songs representing vocational classes is featured for the students next week. The winner of each grade will be announced at the Vocational International Clubs of America dance, planned for Feb. 17. Harmony House of Wonderland Shopping Center, Livonia, is donating albums as prizes for the

A nationally-known Belleville horseman and teacher of horsemanship will address the Romulus Horseman's Association and 4-H members at their Feb. 15 meeting.

"We are extremely fortunate in securing Mr. Tomlison as our guest speaker," said Charlotte McBride, director of RHA.

"Mr. Tomlison is a nationally respected farrier and teacher." A farrier is one who shoes horses.

In 1971, he founded the Michigan School of Horseshoeing located in Belleville. Due to the overwhelming success of the school, he opened similar schools in Kentucky and Canada.

"His one thousand-plus graduates have started practices in Sweden, Holland, France, Mexico and Australia, as well as all over the United States," Ms. McBride said.

"Between his busy assignments, he finds time to write for the Horsemanship Journal, 'Hoff Beats.'" He also is sympathetic to the practical considerations of horse owners because he owns pure bred Arabians."

The RHA director calls Tomlison a gifted, witty speaker whose knowledgeable talks are never dull.

The Feb. 15 meeting starts at 7:30 p.m. at Romulus City Hall, 11111 S. Wayne Road, Romulus. There is no charge. For more information, call 729-6932.

In the armed forces

Pfc. Ross is named 'Soldier of the Month'

Spec. 4 Gail L. Ross, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Rufus J. Ross of Redwood Lane, Romulus, recently was named Soldier of the Month for the U.S. Army Transportation School Brigade at Ft. Eustis, Va.

She was selected for her knowledge of military subjects and current events, outstanding military bearing, sound technical knowledge of her job, fidelity and performance of assigned duties.

Spec. Ross, a supply clerk with the brigade, entered the Army in September 1976.

She attended Ohio State University in Columbus, Ohio.

Also in the armed forces:

Marine Pvt. Eddie S. Bennett, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd H. Bennett of Beverly Road, Romulus, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif.

During his 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He also was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

A 1976 graduate of Romulus Senior High School, he joined the Marine corps in October 1977.

The U.S. Air Force has promoted Keith D. Held, the son of Mrs. Eltie D. Held of Willis Road, Belleville, to the rank of senior airman.

Airman Held is serving at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base, Ariz., as a vehicle operator-dispatcher.

The airman is a 1971 graduate of Lincoln High School in Ypsilanti.

His wife, Patricia, is the daughter of Mrs. Ethel Heiss of Willis Road, Ypsilanti.

Spec. 4 Edwin E. Reyburn, the son of Edwin Reyburn of Belleville, recently graduated from high school while serving as a team chief with the 31st Field Artillery at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

He entered the Army in January 1976.

Marine M. Sgt. Edward Grzesik, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Grzesik, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Grzesik of Belleville, has retired from active duty after 20 years of service.

Grzesik most recently served at the Marine Corps Logistics Support Base, Atlantic, at Albany, Ga.

He joined the Marine Corps in June 1958.

M. Sgt. Thomas C. Brown, the son of Mrs. Walter J. Brown of Somers Street, New Boston, has been named Outstanding Airman of the Month at Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Mich.

A precision measuring equipment superintendent, he was selected for leadership, professional skill and duty performance. The sergeant is assigned to the 379th Avionics Maintenance Squadron, a part of the Strategic Air Command.

Sgt. Brown, a 1956 graduate of Huron High School, attended Alpena Community College. His wife, Marilyn, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Short of Fairfield, Ill.

Navy Seaman Appren. Jeffrey E. Eldred, the son of William G. Eldred of Alden Drive, Belleville, recently participated in rescue and fire fighting operations in the Mediterranean Sea.

he is serving as a crewmember aboard the guided missile cruiser USS South Carolina, homeported in Norfolk, Va. His ship is operating as a unit of the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

The burning 18,000-ton Indian freighter Jagat Padmini was sighted on Jan. 7 by aircraft from the aircraft carrier USS Nimitz. After the vessel was located 30 miles southeast of Sicily, a rescue and assistance party from his ship boarded the Jagat Padmini and, after 12 hours, extinguished the fire. Forty-two crewmen from the Indian freighter were safely evacuated to the South Carolina.

During the remainder of the cruise, the S. Carolina is scheduled to participate in various training exercises with other Sixth Fleet units and with ships of allied nations. Additionally, port visits are scheduled in several Mediterranean coastal cities.

A graduate of Belleville High School, he joined the Navy in February 1977.

Pvt. William E. Lindberg Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Lindberg of Oakbrook, Romulus, recently was assigned as a military policeman with the 2nd Armored Division at Ft. Hood, Tex.

Pvt. Lindberg entered the Army in August 1977.

He is a 1977 graduate of Romulus High School.

Marine Pvt. Keith D. DeBruhl, the son of Ellis W. DeBruhl of Taft, Romulus, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, Calif.

During the 11-week training cycle, he participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

He joined the Marine corps in October 1977.

Birds' plants aired

A special program entitled "Planting for Birds" will be presented at the nature center of Kensington Metropark near Milford on Feb. 12 at 10 a.m.

Birds do much to add pleasure to our lives. Most people have birds in their yards without having to do anything special. Some birds are very particular as to what they eat and where they live — they have specific needs which must be met. Naturalist Bob Hotelling will conduct a program on attracting birds. Emphasis will be on plantings of trees, shrubs and other plants which have food and shelter value to wild birds.

The 1½-hour program will be indoors at the nature center building. Registration is required as are vehicle entry permits.

For information or registration contact the nature center of Kensington Metropark at 685-1561 (Milford).

Ski tour planned

A "Nature Cross-Country Ski Tour" will be conducted at the nature center of Kensington Metropark near Milford on Feb. 12 at 9 a.m.

What better way to enjoy some of nature's winter activities than by cross-country ski? Strap on your skis and join Naturalist Dave Moilanen for a trek along one of the park's ski trails. Occasional stops will be made to examine the activities and survival techniques of plants and animals in winter.

Participants must provide their own ski equipment. A light snack may be desired.

Meet at the nature center for this 2½ hour ski tour. This program is for families and individuals only and advance registration is required. Vehicle entry permits also are required.

For information or registration contact the nature center of Kensington Metropark at 685-1561 (Milford).

You can barbeque outdoors

Don't kick the habit of outdoor barbequing just because of winter weather. Modern LP barbeque grills are designed for year-round use outside.

This advice comes from hom economists at Charmglow Products division of Beatrice Foods Co., who point out that a growing percentage of all grill sales feature the use of LP gas.

With much greater heat-retaining qualities than traditional charcoal grills, LP gas barbeques can provide outdoor summer flavor all year with the added advantage of fingertip temperature control.

Winter storage is not necessary for the LP gas barbeques because of their sturdy cast aluminum construction and weather resistance, the home economists add.

Real estate course offered in Taylor

Two courses in real estate will be offered in Taylor this winter by the statewide Real Estate Program of the University of Michigan.

Real Estate Business II begins Monday and meets Mondays from 6:30 to 10 p.m. Income Property Valuation begins Tuesday and meets Tuesdays from 7 to 10 p.m. Both courses will meet for 11 weeks and will be held at Downriver Federal Savings and Loan, Eureka Road and I-75 in Taylor.

Real Estate Business II is an advanced residential brokerage course designed for established persons salespersons and brokers. It will cover real estate market analysis, appraisal, taxation, condominiums, land development, recreational real estate and closings. Income Property Valuation will provide a basic understanding of valuation analysis of income-producing properties for the real estate broker, salesperson, investor or lender.

Advance registration for the courses is advised as enrollment is limited.

The University of Michigan Real Estate

Program, now in its 31st year, offers courses for the professional benefit of both experienced persons and those new to or interested in the real estate field. The U-M Extension Service, the Graduate School of Business Administration and the Michigan Association of Realtors cooperate in offering the state-certified courses, which have been approved for the granting of Continuing Education Units (CEU's) and can lead to the respected U-M Certificate in Real Estate.

For further information on these courses and others scheduled this winter at a variety of locations around the state, contact the Real Estate Program, U-M Extension Service, 350 S. Thayer, Ann Arbor 48109, or at 763-2170.

Put safety first

If you're going snowmobiling this winter season, do it safely.

The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) says you can get off on the right track by having your powersled in good operating condition. Stay with the established trails to avoid being stranded in deep snow — and to protect the young trees and other habitat.

Don't go it alone. Do carry a compass, ample fuel and emergency snowshoes. Use one of the many groomed state forest trails or a posted state park use area. DNR records show that each year only a small percentage of powered sled accidents occur on marked public trails. Unlawful snowmobiling on roads and adjoining shoulders is a major cause of accidents.

It's important that you keep both feet on the running board of the machine. The DNR stresses that many accidents are leg injuries and occur when the rider's foot strays from the running board.

Fruits will be topic

People interested in growing strawberries, raspberries and grapes in their backyards will want to attend a Small Fruits Workshop, sponsored by the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service in cooperation with Schoolcraft Community College.

The event will be at the Schoolcraft Community College, 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia, on Feb. 25 from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

The workshop will feature a discussion on fruit varieties for the backyard, care and culture and insect and disease control. A portion of the event will be held in the liberal arts theater. Weather permitting, there will be an outdoor demonstration on pruning of grapes.

People can call the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service at 721-6550 or 563-2400 for further details.

CPAs explain consequence of owning home

(This is the fifth in a series of articles prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants offering advice on filing 1977 income tax returns.)

Whatever the problems of home ownership — climbing property taxes, inflated fuel bills, unavailability of reliable services — concern about them tends to fade away as April 15 approaches.

For, as the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants points out, that little home with the big mortgage is the richest lode of tax deductions the average family can expect to mine, even though choice veins, such as the office-in-the-home deduction, have been virtually eliminated.

For many years it has been national policy to encourage family home ownership through tax benefits, and that still is pretty much the case today. Even the Carter administration's proposal for taxing capital gains as ordinary income would exclude gains on the sale of a personal residence.

The two biggest tax deductions a home brings, the CPAs report, are property taxes levied by state and local governments and interest on the mortgage, including the loan processing fee or prepaid finance charge paid as a bonus or premium to persuade the lender to grant the mortgage.

The tax deduction for an office at home has been just about wiped out for employees who have offices or other work space elsewhere. To claim an office-in-the-home deduction now an employee must be able to prove that the home space is used regularly and exclusively for the employer's benefit as a principal place of business or to meet with clients.

People who conduct their own businesses out of their homes still can deduct a pro-rated portion of their household maintenance and repair costs, of course, but under the new policy they will do well to isolate work spaces from living quarters, leaving no doubt that except for storage areas the business-related space is used regularly and exclusively for business.

Other deductions that have been tightened are those on vacation homes rented out when not being used by the owner and his family. You can still deduct interest and taxes but other deductions such as upkeep, fuel, electricity and depreciation cannot be taken unless the place is not used for personal purposes more than the greater of 14 days or 10 percent of the number of days it is rented out during the year.

If you rented the place for at least 15 days and used it for personal purposes more than the greater of 14 days or 10 percent of the number of days it is rented during the year, the other deductions attributable to the rental activity may not exceed the rental income after deducting interest and property taxes. Accordingly, no tax deductible loss may be generated through ownership of vacation homes used by the owner.

If you rented out the place for less than 15 days during the year, disregard the above. Do not declare the income and do not take the deductions, other than interest and taxes, Uncle Sam wants you to treat such an arrangement as a "wash." And even if your use of a vacation home falls within the permissible limits, your deductions on a so-called hobby business, except for interest and taxes and otherwise allowable deductions, cannot exceed income.

If you sold your residence in 1977 at a profit and do not expect to reinvest at least the full amount received in another residence within 18 months, you may have to pay a capital gain tax. File a Schedule D and Form 2119 along with your tax return. The period is extended to 24 months, if a new residence is constructed.

Should you still be undecided as to whether you are going to buy or rent your next home, you can defer payment of the tax for up to 18 months, but unless you are quite sure you are going to buy, the CPAs advise that you pay the tax immediately and avoid interest charges and perhaps a penalty. Save a copy of Form 2119; incidentally, whenever you do finally sell without reinvesting it will be useful in establishing your cost basis.

All receipts and canceled checks having to do with the purchase and maintenance of a home should be retained indefinitely. They can be useful in computing your yearly tax bill, can help establish a cost basis that will minimize any capital gain tax you may ultimately have to pay, can be used in event of casualty loss insurance or tax claims, and conceivably can be used to win a reduction of real estate tax assessments.

Now that you are getting your financial records together for your 1977 tax return preparation, organize those papers and store any with possible long-term usefulness in a safe place. And that safe storage place, the CPA Association suggests, should be away from the home.

In the final article in this series the CPAs give advice on filing Michigan Income Tax Returns.

County asks state for partial payment for Youth Home

A proposal to solicit even partial payment of money owed by the State is being explored by a committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners trying to relieve overcrowding and related staff problems at the County Youth Home.

The idea was raised by the County Board of Commissioners Human Resources Committee and referred to the Board of Auditors for a cost comparison of amounts owed each governmental unit for exchange of services between the two.

Explained Committee Chairman Jackie L. Currie: "The state has us billed for some services, and we have the state billed for some services. If the Auditors calculate that the state owes us more than we owe them, then we are considering asking for that net difference immediately, rather than waiting for the full gross amount."

Mrs. Currie noted that the proposed partial payment plan is an alternative being considered even while the State Legislature already studies a plea from the county for supplemental funding for emergency staff at the Youth Home.

Juvenile Court and Youth Home officials have asked for six additional group leaders and two more child care workers to assure safety for both the inmates and staff, and to allow staff flexibility that is lacking.

They also stress that the Youth Home houses about 50 more than its intended 215 maximum, and that 100 of these are convicted state wards who should instead be confined in state facilities.

"In addition to the state's contribution to the problem, they are compounding the trouble and making matters much worse by threatening to withdraw our license for the very reasons they have created," Mrs. Currie said. "First, the state causes us our problem; secondly, it won't appropriate us additional money to solve the problem it created; thirdly, they threaten to punish us for this entrapment; and finally, they refuse to release us monies we are legitimately owed for housing their wards."

Since July the county has billed the State from $149,000 to $192,000 each month for housing the 100 wards, but so far has been unable to collect, said Mrs. Currie.

"If the state would promise us even part of this money by a definite date, we could proceed with more staff at least on a temporary basis while a more permanent solution is sought," Mrs. Currie observed.

Besides the request before the legislature for emergency operating funds for the Youth Home, the Board of Commissioners also has urged legislative approval of a pending $1.1 million to staff the state's Maxey Training School to accommodate 70 more beds.

If approved, most of the state wards in the Youth Home could be transferred to the Maxey Institution, Mrs. Currie said. "This also would provide great relief from our overcrowding and eliminate the danger of license withdrawal," she added. "The state has driven us to desperation, and has us clutching at every straw," she said.

Some people have believed that eating cinnamon would help them become immune to disease.

Editorial opinions

Carter's non-political non-sense

If the American Cancer Society received one dollar each time a principle was compromised for politics, the world would have long ago been free of that disease.

And, if the battle against heart disease was provided with that same dollar each time a politician pledged to remove politics from government, and didn't, there would be no heart disease.

When President Jimmie Carter began his campaign to gain the White House, an often-overheard remark was, "Is it possible that Carter is for real?" Well, it now looks very much like the world has the answer to that question.

The decision by Carter, to 'stone-wall' opposition to the removal of U.S. Attorney David W. Marston in Pennsylvania, has provided the world with a rhetoric-free view of the man who pledged to balance the budget, cut the defense budget, and to remove politics from appointments.

Carter has defended his removal of Marston on the basis that "that is the way things have been characteristically done."

Well, Carter was not elected because he had pledged to do things the characteristic way.

Perhaps it is just too much for the American public to expect, that their elected officials do what they have pledged to do during the campaign. But, we do not think so.

Notwithstanding the ramifications surrounding the Marston removal, it is interesting to note the extent that politicians felt required to go in order to justify the Marston removal.

The Speaker of the House, in a well orchestrated speech, launched a personal attack on Marston, calling him a "vicious Republican political animal," while the Carter democratic political machine powered the metronome.

Perhaps it is also too early to conclude that Jimmie Carter is in over his head, but of late he is clearly giving the world that impression.

We would ask Carter to take a fresh look at where he is at, and how he arrived there.

Casualty of audit owes us explanation

With the arrival of the preliminary report from the state auditors regarding alleged wrongdoings at Romulus City Hall, hopefully will come the calm following the storm.

The state audit of the Romulus books followed charges and counter-charges hurled back and forth by former treasurer John Lewkowicz and former Mayor James Stewart. But, in only one instance, did the state auditors agree with allegations.

The state ultimately concluded that six of Lewkowicz's allegations and 10 of Stewart's were worthy of comment within the report. Quite possibly, the most damaging portion of the audit dealt with City Clerk Leonard Folmar's handling of a shortage that turned up in the funds collected through the city's annual firemen's golf outing.

The golf outing, a private affair, whose proceeds go to the city fire department, is traditionally run by the city clerk.

It was a $1,260 shortage in that fund which started the chain of events that the state auditors have labeled improper.

In order to cover the shortage that he was responsible for, Folmar had to go to the city pension fund and borrow $2,100 from the $4,600 on deposit in his name.

According to the auditors, "The Romulus pension fund does not authorize loans to employees from pension funds."

While Folmar contends that he was unaware of rules prohibiting his borrowing from that fund, it seems that someone at city hall should have been.

Folmar has since repaid the pension fund, but the question raised by the auditor's report has not been answered.

We feel that the auditor's report has provided very little new insight into the sometimes mysterious behavior of past city officials, but the report did create a blemish on the record of the city clerk.

It would seem that the time is at hand for Folmar to publicly explain to the citizens of Romulus, the complete details surrounding the initial shortage in the golf outing funds, and his borrowing from his pension fund to cover that shortage.

As an elected official who is entrusted with the public's welfare, he can do no less. As a leader he can do no more.

How are we doing?

Every once in a while it is a good idea to stand back and take a look at your accomplishments and goals. That way you can view your situation from a fresh perspective and spot potential problem areas early. In addition, that approach will get you far enough out of the woods to see the trees.

But even better yet, if you really want to know how well or how poorly you are doing, you should ask those that must ultimately have the last word, your customers.

Well, we are asking you. How do you think we are doing?

This is your newspaper. Hopefully bringing you the type of coverage of your community that you want and need.

Drop us a line and let us know what you think.

We will publish the replies in the paper unless you request that we do not.

Send your letter to The Romulus Roman or The Belleville Enterprise at 116 Fourth Street, Belleville, Mich. 48111, or 35540 W. Michigan Ave., Wayne, Mich. 48184.

Guest Editorial

A boost for ailing spirit urged

By DR. KAY BAUGHMAN
Belleville High School teacher

During my eighteen years as an English teacher at Belleville High School, I have enjoyed many positive experiences working with students, parents and staff members in classroom situations, as well as in various other activities.

B.H.S. has been a good place in which to work. The majority of students are receptive and interested in obtaining the necessary high school skills in order to carry out their goals in life after graduation.

They have been proud of their school's scholastic standards, as well as the athletic teams, music, art and vocational programs. The schools have always been an integral part of the community; this district has earned respect outside the local environs also.

Graduates of B.H.S. could always feel that their training was as adequate for colleges, technical schools and employment as those from surrounding districts.

Our schools have enjoyed a good reputation and have not been as infected with widespread violence and vandalism as many large secondary schools across the nation since the early 70's.

A community is frequently judged as a decent place to live by the quality of the schools, and the Belleville area is no exception.

There is a growing concern in the community about our school district.

One group that has been expressing its concern by meeting every week in order to discuss the situation is the Citizen's Advisory Council to the Van Buren Board of Education. I have attended a few meetings and have been impressed with the level of caring and the involvement of the people who attend.

They would like to see our schools continue offering a good educational program to the young people of Van Buren Township and Belleville.

Everyone in the community should desire good schools. A school provides an important center for communication and should be the major institution for the learning of values and skills and for the provision of experiences through which young people grow into responsible adults. They will become the community's future strength.

A community cannot neglect its youth. The support of all citizens is needed, as all people benefit from a community with a respectable reputation.

I have recently been reading Water Under the Bridge, a history of Van Buren Township, by Cathy Horste and Diane Wilson.

Historically, it seems that Van Buren Schools have been considered a source of pride in the community. People wanted their children to attend the schools because they had a reputation for offering students a good education.

What are the aspects of a school district that cause people to feel pride and loyalty?

I am in touch with high school students daily, and they seem more worried lately than ever before about whether or not their school is as effective as it should be. They frequently mention the loss of "School Spirit," and wonder whether or not it means a true lessening of standards and programs on a permanent basis. They hope this will not happen, because they want and deserve to feel as proud of their school as the people did who went before them.

A positive attitude and a hopeful force of effort are needed. With strong community input, the necessary resources to keep the schools good can be realized. It takes parents and taxpayers who care and who realize their responsible role in the total educational process to insure the pride and loyalty that grow from experiences in a good school system.

Parents do help to control much of the educational environment in which their children learn. If parents are permissive, non-caring and non-supportive, financially, the interpretation by children is that they do not realize the importance of an educational program that can be competitive with other areas.

Parents and teachers need to be in touch concerning the child so that the best approach to learning can be taken. There are many opportunities for parents to assist their children as they progress through school.

Is the discipline and behavioral system used in your child's classroom(s) working for her-him? If not, discuss it with the teacher or administrator and target some areas in which to make improvements. Often, the problems are not difficult to resolve, but merely need attention or task-oriented solutions.

Another aspect of a student's learning environment that parents can help to control is the viewing of television.

Experts agree that TV is a powerful teaching device, if used properly. Parents who monitor their children's viewing habits and discuss which programs to watch are influencing learning.

There are other aspects of television viewing that are important. If you are interested in discussing this topic or other areas of discipline, as well as ways in which parents can have more control over their children's learning environments and become more involved in the total educational process, there is a sub-committee of the Citizen's Advisory Council that will be happy to discuss these school issues with you. I am chairman of this sub-committee. You can contact me at Belleville High School — 697-9133 (1:30 to 2:30 p.m.)

The Citizen's Advisory Council meets every Monday evening at 7 p.m. at the High School. The public is invited to attend.

DARE to help rape victims

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

Of all the species in the animal kingdom, man is evidently the only one with a predilection to commit wanton, vicious acts against his own kind. And of those vicious acts, there is one which is perhaps the most dastardly: we refer to rape.

Two PCHA hospitals (Heritage in Taylor and Outer Drive in Lincoln Park) are active in a relatively new program named DARE (Downriver Anti-Rape Effort).

DARE is a community-based organization that provides supportive services to victims of sexual assault and seeks to increase community awareness of the issues surrounding rape.

The pilot program was started in September 1976. The service is operational seven days a week, 24 hours a day through the SAC (Six Area Coalition) Crisis Center in Lincoln Park.

Volunteers who have been specially trained to deal with rape victims — and the victim's family or friends — are available by calling 383-9000 and asking for the services of such a volunteer.

According to Ms. Jan Stark, Director of Social Services at Outer Drive Hospital, perhaps only 10 percent of all actual rapes are reported to the authorities.

"The reason 90 percent of the rape victims don't call the police and report the crime is the simple fact that too often the victim is treated, at best, as a common street walker who provoked the attack herself."

"The Federal Commission on Crimes of Violence has reported, however, that only 4 percent of the reported rapes were provoked by the victim's behavior."

"Still, the myths persist."

Some of the myths surrounding rape are contained in a booklet published by the Women's Crisis Center of Ann Arbor, and we are going to write about them in this following paragraphs.

First, rape is not an impulsive act committed by a sexually unfulfilled male.

Instead, rape is the fastest growing violent crime in the Nation. It is a criminal act; both physically and emotionally traumatic to the victim. Copious studies show that the majority of rapes are not impulsive acts: most are carefully planned in advance.

A second myth suggests that most rapes occur in a dark alley, to women who are young and attractive, or who hitchhike. The facts, however, show that rape can, and does, occur at any time, to anyone, of any age, at any place. Over 35 percent of all rapes occur in the victim's home between persons who are known to each other or who live in the same neighborhood.

Third, some apologists say that a woman can't be raped unless she so desires; that she actually provokes the attack and that she really enjoys the assault.

It is ridiculous to say that a woman would enjoy being attacked by a man for whom she has no feeling or to whom she feels no attraction — that she would enjoy being exposed to injury or possible death and would enjoy being brutalized and humiliated.

Ms. Stark said that most of the rape cases reported to DARE last year were through the Outer Drive Hospital which has incorporated the use of volunteer victim assistants in the emergency service protocol. The professional staff in the emergency service are trained to deal with the victims in a sensitive and empathic manner; the rules of patient confidentiality are carefully observed at all times.

Several local police departments send victims directly to Outer Drive where the medical staff completes the Sexual Assault Medical Evidence Kit developed in cooperation with Outer Drive Hospital and the Michigan State Police Crime Laboratory. The physical evidence obtained can be used by the police to aid in identification of the assailant and subsequent prosecution.

Ms. Stark emphasized that a rape victim does not have to prosecute. Still, for her own protection, she should at a minimum report the attack and seek medical assistance.

DARE volunteers will provide counseling and support in a courtroom for those victims who opt to prosecute.

Ms. Susan M. Omilian, DARE Program Coordinator, said, "Police, prosecutors, and victims themselves have told us that our presence in court has made a significant difference in the outcome of these cases. We have been able to reduce the victim's fears and increase her involvement in, and her understanding of, the legal proceedings."

Michigan is a leader in writing laws which help the victim. For instance, no longer can a defense attorney inquire into the past sexual habits of a victim — an inquiry which is designed only to bias the court, embarrass the victim, and cloud the real issue.

Women who have suffered this crime, and who are prepared to prosecute now stand an excellent chance of seeing their attackers convicted and appropriately punished.

Ms. Omilian said that the conviction rate in criminal sexual abuse cases in which DARE was involved was 100 percent last year; according to statistics reported by the FBI, the national average for conviction last year was only 35 percent.

DARE provides speakers and audiovisual programs to interested groups. The principal theme of these DARE presentations is rape prevention.

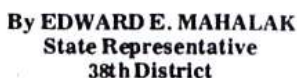

If you would like to learn more about this odious crime, and more importantly, how to help prevent it, call the SAC office at 382-6776.

Vital assistance may only be a telephone call away.

Semta has declared that Romulus is under active review and currently programmed for a new dial-a-ride type system as soon as final funding contracts can be developed. I don't think too much of the program that they are trying to develop. It is of little benefit to the residents of Romulus and of no benefit to the residents of the surrounding communities.

In addition to those problems, we are demanding that the area be serviced with a dial-a-ride system to connect with a trunkline system. January 7, 1977, we sent out a newsletter from Lansing to all the residents in our district. We had very minimal response.

Resident cooperation sought to save low coal supplies

Area residents are being urged to begin immediate voluntary conservation of electricity and utilities have been told they could use higher-priced oil and gas to extend their dwindling supplies of coal.

Officials of the Public Service Commission (PSC) and the Energy Administration of the Department said "Serious economic loss" faces the state without such measures, if the national coal strike continues more than a month.

Detroit Edison and Consumers Power Co., Michigan's major utilities, have approximately 60 days supply of coal on hand to generate power, according to a report to the commission Jan. 31. A minimum 30 days after settlement of the strike would be needed before supplies could be replenished here.

Using oil and gas to generate power where feasible will extend supplies about two additional weeks at an additional cost of $14 million per week, the commission said. An average residential customer, using 500 kilowatt hours of electricity per month would pay about $1.50 per month.

If no action were taken, utilities would run out of coal and could not meet customers' demands by April 1, and would automatically begin cutting down power supplies, according to Roger Fischer, PSC electric division director.

A still longer strike would necessitate mandatory conservation by order of the Governor's Office.

Commission Chairman Daniel J. Demlow said Michigan "cannot afford to work under the assumption that the strike will be settled soon."

"We must take steps now to extend our coal supplies. The adjustments we make now are relatively minor," Demlow said. "What we want to do is avoid catastrophe later, when we would have blackouts, businesses and industry would face a shutdown and many people would be out of work."

Voluntary conservation by residential customers also will offset the higher costs of oil and gas use by utilities, since customers will be using less electricity.

"Customers can cut down their monthly bills and at the same time be adding to the time we can maintain adequate power for our state," he said.

Demlow and Commissioner Willa Mae King noted that the federal government might order the state to sell electricity to other states, even if Michigan conserves as much as possible.

"We will fight that battle later," Demlow said. "What we must do is take every responsible step we can today."

Only about 2,000 Michigan residences are heated by coal, and most are adequately supplied. Large industrial users apparently also have sufficient supplies, as do utilities which rely on boat-delivered coal, he said. Those utilities stockpile enough coal for the winter before the lake distribution system is frozen in December.

Oil supplies also appear to be adequate to meet the new demands by utilities.

In 1975, the commission adopted emergency procedures to follow in the event of shortages of electricity.

12 BHS students honored

Twelve students attending Belleville High School have been named in the 1978 edition of "Who's Who in Music."

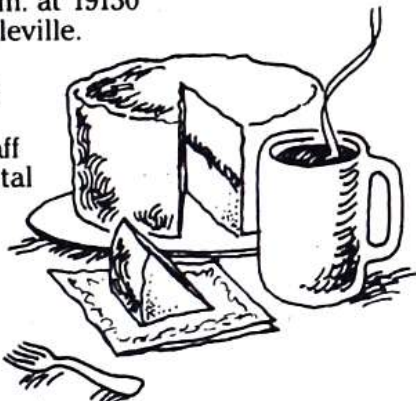

The students' names were included in the publication, based on the decision of the school's nominating committee, head by Dennis Miller, band coordinator. The decision was based on the students' music ability, academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

Belleville High students named in Who's Who were Cindy Cahen of Lakeside Drive, Charlene Cook of East Huron River Drive, James Craven of Fisher, Pamela Fitch of Second Avenue, Vanessa Hall of Sumpter Road, Jeffrey Harper of Mott Road, Jeffrey Kelly of Beck Road, Kathy Lyons of Belleville Road, Jim Moriarty of Lake Point Pass, Kevin Patke of Ecorse Road, Gary Rouser of Lenmore and Barry White of Haggerty Road.

Oakwood Hospital's Sumpter Family Medical Center invites you to our open house.

Come visit and tell us how we can serve your health needs. Join your neighbors, ask questions, and enjoy refreshments on Wednesday, February 22, 7-9 p.m. at 19130 Sumpter Road, Belleville.

The doctors and nurses of Sumpter Family Medical Center and the Staff of Oakwood Hospital look forward to seeing you.

There's Still Time To Save On 1977 Income Taxes

Open a Security Bank 7 3/4% Individual Retirement Account by February 14, 1978, and take a tax deduction on 1977 income.

A recent government ruling has extended the period for opening a tax-sheltered IRA Account and earning a tax break on last year's income taxes. Now you have until February 14, 1978 to open an Individual Retirement Custodial Account (or add to your existing IRA Account) at Security Bank and use the deposit as a deduction on your 1977 tax return.

A Security Bank Individual Retirement Custodial Account is as easy to open as a regular savings account. It offers a 7 3/4% annual rate with a three-year maturity and is automatically renewable. With quarterly compounding, the effective annual yield is 7.977%. Annual statements are provided.

Qualifications You qualify for this tax-sheltered retirement account if you are not currently a participant in any employer-sponsored retirement plan. What's more, an additional IRA Account can be opened for your spouse as long as he or she is not employed and receives no compensation.

Tax Savings Contributions up to $1,500 (or 15% of compensation, whichever is less) are deductible from adjusted gross income each year. A spouse's additional IRA Account increases the maximum to $1,750. All contributions and the interest earned on your IRA Account accumulate tax-free until withdrawn at retirement.

Open-End Feature Deposits must be in the amount of $25 or more. However, you can make as many deposits to the account as you wish in order to accumulate your annual contribution. Each deposit earns from the day of deposit. All deposits made during a calendar year have the same maturity date—three years from December 31 of the year in which the deposits are made.

Start Now For more information, or to open your account, call 283-5000 or visit any Security Bank and Trust branch office.

Withdrawal from an IRA Account without penalty may be made at age 59 1/2 or in the case of death or permanent disability. Otherwise Federal law and regulation prohibit the payment of a time deposit prior to maturity unless three months of the interest thereon is forfeited and interest on the amount withdrawn is reduced to the passbook rate. There is also a substantial I.R.S. penalty for early withdrawal. This account is subject to IRA rules and regulations.

Emergency food shelf saves Jan. 26

By MAUREEN BEATTY

And how did you spend Jan. 26? A few months ago I spoke at our Romulus site about having an emergency shelf ready for unexpected events such as a bad snow storm. I'm glad I took my own advice.

We don't live in an area that must wait days to be dug out, as some friends of ours do, but Jan. 26 was not a day to venture out for groceries. Since Thursday is my usual shopping day, we could very well have ended up with bread and water for dinner, were it not for my emergency shelf. In fact, it was actually fun choosing what items we wanted off the shelf.

Our area was luckier than some.

Although our electrical power threatened failure often during the day, it never remained out for more than a minute at a time. (We had our turn on New Year's Day when we were without power for more than five hours.) Considering this in hindsight, I must admit we were not in a real state of emergency on the 26th. I did have milk, eggs, butter and such in the refrigerator and a workable stove, but had we been inconvenienced by a power outage or snowed in for several days, we still would have managed well nutritionally with the following items set aside for such times:

—Canned citrus or tomato juice, dried milk or evaporated, canned or dried soups, milk, canned meat and fish, instant or ready-to-eat cereal, canned vegetables such as tomatoes, peas and corn, dried fruits, such as prunes, canned applesauce, figs, dates, peanut butter, crackers, jam, jelly or marmalade and instant coffee, tea or cocoa.

My husband's special diet does not allow for popcorn, but the night of Jan. 26 seemed a perfect time to be frivolous, so we treated ourselves to popcorn that I keep on the shelf in an airtight container.

Occasionally, use the foods remaining on the shelf to insure freshness, but be sure to replace them immediately.

Recently, a long range weather forecaster predicted severe storms and more tornadoes than usual for this coming summer. Given my fruthers, I'll take the snow.

The Wayne County Office on Aging will hold a "White Elephant Auction" in J Building, 2345 Merriman

Road, Westland, on Feb. 22 at 12:30 p.m. Dorothy Eggleston will act as auctioneer, and refreshments will be served. Not only will some good bargains be available, it will be a real fun experience for those who attend.

Proceeds will be used for senior citizen activities. For further information, or for lunch reservations, call 326-9600.

All donations for the auction will be gratefully accepted. Let's back our area senior citizens.

The date for Maryette Baird to speak at J Building on "Secrets of a Happy Meal" has been changed to Friday. This will be an entertaining as well as informative talk. I hope you can all attend. Call 326-9600 for additional information.

Do you know what to do in case of an accident?

No one expects a crash. Yet winter increases the chances of having an accident and strikes one out of every four drivers on wet, icy or snow-covered roads, says the Insurance Information Institute. But there are several precautions to prevent confusion during the aftermath.

The institute urges drivers to post these tips in their glove compartments in case of that unexpected accident. This way, the driver will always know what steps to take.

—Stop, identify yourself and summon aid for the injured.

—Write down each others' names, addresses and drivers license numbers.

—Obtain the names and addresses of all passengers and witnesses involved or seeing the accident.

—Explain to the police officer on the scene the details. Too often driver's walk away from an accident forgetting to look at the police report. Once the police report is filed, the driver has no say-so if it's a wrong account of the accident.

—Never admit fault under any circumstances.

—Make a note of the officer's name, badge number, jurisdiction. Also get the number of the police report for your insurance company.

—Refuse to sign any liability waivers or assurances that you're uninjured because many injuries are not immediately evident. See a doctor if you suspect any injuries.

—Take notes on the circumstances surrounding the accident including time, place, weather and road conditions, any evidence of a law violation, approximate speed of cars and relevant details.

—If the other driver admits fault, get it in writing and before witnesses, in case of a suit.

—Diagram the scene of the accident as accurately as possible including the precise placement of cars and people.

Take pictures of the accident, and the placement of cars for your insurance company.

—Report the accident to your insurance representative promptly since most policies require such notification within a specified period. To speed up the claims settlement, include your policy number and all details of the accident in your report.

—If your passengers or you are injured, keep detailed information and bills from any medical examinations. The insurance company will ask for them later.

Almost every state requires the driver to report in writing to a specified state agency all accidents involving damage over a predetermined dollar amount. This amount and time period allotted for filing the report varies from state to state. Your local police can provide this information as well as the report form.

Commissioners support tougher truck regulations

A proposal by Wayne County Commissioner Erv Steiner, urging tougher traffic regulations for trucks in Michigan, has won the unanimous support of his colleagues.

Sitting as the Ways and Means Committee, the Board of Commissioners Jan. 12 approved a Steiner resolution calling on the State Legislature to adopt a new law that would restrict truck traffic to the two right-hand lanes of freeways and highways throughout the state — or at least give local communities the opportunity to regulate trucks in their area.

"I'm delighted with this support," Steiner said. "It makes us the first public body to go on record in support of tougher truck regulations that would make it safer and more convenient for passenger car travel."

Steiner said a state law (P.A. 170) passed in 1976 gave trucks the right to travel on any lane of a three-or-more lane expressway.

"This law — and the fact that energy conservation has imposed a 55 mile per hour speed limit on all vehicles — has made driving more dangerous for anyone who drives a passenger car. I intend to push for a 50-mph speed limit for trucks. We need to bring some balance to our freeways again," Steiner said.

Steiner said he was optimistic about the State Legislature adopting the right-hand lanes restriction.

"State Rep. Joseph F. Young of Detroit has already told me the legislation has been drafted and he will introduce a bill before the end of January," he said.

"I got a letter of support from Attorney General Frank J. Kelley and Sen. Basil Brown of Highland Park phoned this week to say he was behind it."

Steiner has asked the Governor, the Secretary of State, leaders of the House and Senate, and members of the Wayne County delegation to support his proposal.

Guest lecturers highlight Black History Week

Guest lectures by the top administrators from three predominantly black colleges will highlight Eastern Michigan University's celebration of Black History Week next week.

Eastern Michigan will hold five consecutive days of activities, designed to pay tribute to the contributions of blacks in history. In conjunction with Black History Week, the university also will play host to 50 black high school seniors from Montreal and Quebec in an inter- and cross-cultural exchange. EMU's celebration of Black History Week is sponsored by the Center for Afro-American Studies, and the Office of Minority Affairs. Also sponsoring the activities is the EMU Black Students Association. The celebration begins Monday with a 3 p.m. lecture by LaMont Walton, Legal Aid attorney at the University of Michigan. Walton will discuss "Blacks, Racism and the Law" in the Faculty Lounge of McKenny Union.

EMU student poets Kojo and Assata Kambui will read their works at 7 p.m. Monday in Roosevelt Auditorium. Their readings will be followed by a lecture on "Afro-American Studies: Implications for the State of Human Knowledge" by Ronald Woods of Eastern's Center for Afro-American Studies. "Future Shock: From a Black Perspective" will be discussed Tuesday by Arthur Thomas, vice-president for academic affairs at Central State University in Ohio. His lecture will be held at 3 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge of McKenny. Eastern's Afro-Renaissance Theatre Company will present dramatic "Readings on Malcolm X" at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Roosevelt Auditorium. Festac slides depicting conditions in Africa will be shown following the readings.

Lewis Business College President Maria Jackson will give a talk, titled "The Perils of Miss Black Pauline: The Role of the Black Woman President", Wednesday at 3 p.m. in Guild Hall of McKenny Union.

Eastern Michigan's Black Gospel Choir will perform at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Roosevelt Auditorium. The performance will be followed by a discussion on "The Contributions of the Black Woman to America" by Beulah Sanders, director of the U-M William Trotter House.

Black History Week activities continue next Thursday with a 3 p.m. lecture by Romalious Murphy, president of Shaw College in Detroit. Murphy will discuss "The Role of the Black College in a Multi-Racial Society" in the Faculty Lounge of the union.

Two films, "Black Music in America" and "Dr. Martin Luther King Jr." will be presented at 7 p.m. in the Roosevelt Auditorium.

Jesse Ingram, associate professor of psychology at Bowie State College in Maryland, will give a lecture next Friday at 3 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge of the union. Ingram will present "A Critique of the Black Student Movement from a Psychological Perspective."

The celebration concludes at 7 p.m. with an African Naming Ceremony, presented by the Black Students Association. The ceremony, which will be held in the lounge of the Walton-Putnam Residence Hall, is designed to give blacks African names suited to their personalities. All of EMU's Black History Week activities are open to the public. For further information, call the Center for Afro-American Studies at 487-3460 or the Office of Minority Affairs at 487-0267.

MOT will stage Gounod's 'Faust'

The Michigan Opera Theatre (MOT) will present a new and innovative production of Charles Gounod's opera "Faust", opening Friday with performances Sunday and Feb. 15, 17 and 18 at the Music Hall.

The title role will be sung by Jon Garrison of the Metropolitan Opera Leona Mitchell, also from the Metropolitan, will alternate the role of Marguerite with rising young soprano Pamela Myers. Making his American operatic debut is Henk Smit from the Netherlands Opera. This unique interpretation of Gounod's popular French opera will use new sets, designed by Paul Steinberg, and will be staged under the direction of David Alden. David Effron, a frequent conductor with the New York City Opera and chief conductor of the Eastman Philharmonia, will conduct.

Garrison, a favored tenor with many leading American opera houses, makes his MOT debut after receiving critical acclaim as Tamino in "The Magic Flute" on his recent Metropolitan Opera tour.

Ms. Mitchell, who will sing Marguerite on Friday, Sunday and Feb. 17, returns to the MOT debut after receiving critical acclaim as Tamino in "The Magic Flute" on his recent Metropolitan Opera tour.

Ms. Mitchell, who will sing Marguerite on Friday, Sunday and Feb. 17, returns to the MOT after her great success as Bess in the 1975 production of "Porgy and Bess."

Elsie Inselman, a favorite with Detroit audiences, will return to the MOT stage in the role of Siebel. Ms. Inselman has performed in several MOT productions, including "Carmen" and the world premiere of "Washington Square". Stephen Dickson, a native of Oklahoma, makes his debut with the MOT in the role of Valentine.

Others in the cast include Meredith Parsons as Marthe and Kenneth Young as Wagner.

Tickets for "Faust" are available at the Music Hall Box office, 350 Madison Avenue, from 12 noon to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday. For further information call 963-7680.

Ruby Dee, Ossie Davis will appear at WCCC

Acclaimed actress-actor duo Ruby Dee and Ossie Davis will be at Wayne County Community College Tuesday to present a prose and poetry reading as part of the college's observance of African-American History Week. The husband and wife team will perform at 8 p.m. at the college's Greenfield Center, 8551 Greenfield near Joy Road.

Admission is $2 for the general public and $1 for students with identification.

Ms. Dee and Davis currently are heard on 65 stations throughout the country on the "Ossie Davis and Ruby Dee Story Hour" over the National Black Network. Davis produces the show.

The couple also have co-produced a CBS television special for young people entitled "Today is Ours", based on Ms. Dee's book, "Glowchild," a poetry anthology. Their concert readings are based primarily on the works of minority group writers.

In addition to their work together, each is renowned for individual performances. Ms. Dee is best remembered for her roles in the film "Gone with the Wind" and the play "Purlie Victorious," both written by Ossie Davis. Other memorable performances by the actress were in Lorraine Hansberry's "A Raisin in the Sun," the film "Buck and the Preacher" with Sidney Poitier and Harry Belafonte, and "The Jackie Robinson Story."

Ms. Dee won an Obie award for her performance in the play "Boesman and Lena" and the Drama Desk Award for her role in "Wedding Band." She has authored a play, soon to be produced, "Take it From the Top."

Ms. Dee is a product of Harlem's American Negro Theatre and a graduate of Hunter College in New York City.

Davis has appeared in such noted plays as "Anna Lucasta," "Green Pastures," "A Raisin in the Sun," and "Purlie Victorious." Motion picture credits include "The Scalphunters," "The Slaves," "The Hill," "The Cardinal," and his own "Purlie Victorious."

Davis in addition has directed several well-known motion pictures, including "Cotton Comes to Harlem," "Kong's Harvest," "Black Girl," "Gordon's War," and "Countdown at Kusini," which was sponsored by Delta Sigma Theta Sorority and starred Davis and Ms. Dee.

Davis attended Howard University in Washington, D.C., where he studied under Dr. Alain LeRoy Locke, Rhodes Scholar and Sterling A. Brown, a distinguished poet. In New York, he joined a Harlem theatre group, the Rose McClendon Players.

Their appearance at WCCC is sponsored by the Office of Student Activities.

70th annual Shrine Circus continues at fair coliseum

The 70th annual Shrine Circus has opened at the State Fair Coliseum for a 17-day run, extending through Feb. 19.

Billed as the largest circus in the world, the 2½-hour show utilizes three rings and two stages in presenting 25 circus displays. Featuring more than 40 acts, the circus has as many as five performing simultaneously.

Among the most unusual is Hawthorne's Performing Tigers, featuring five Royal Bengal White Tigers, so rare that only 11 are known to exist throughout the world. One of the most noted of the rare animals, Bagheera, joins a golden tiger in defying age-old hostility by riding the back of an elephant in the center ring.

In keeping with the current popularity of outer space conjecture, a family troupe of aerial acrobats, The Quazzars, highlight flying saucers, robots, and rocket ships in a grand finale number. Other aerial acts feature hair and neck hangs, an upside-down walk, gymnastics on suspended bars and an aerial ballet.

Working from the ground are a host of jugglers, balancers, unicyclists, and teeterboard artists. Motorcycleists do loop-the-loops and a headstand down a descending tightrope. The Great Seguro, a bounding rope artist working without a balancing pole, performs his unique double somersault in the air. Animal lovers will enjoy three troupes of performing elephants, three trained dog acts, two groups of performing chimps, Zoppe's Arabian Riders, Tony the Wonder Horse and many others.

The Circus offers 38 performances, including 1:30 and 7:30 p.m. shows daily and an added performance at 10 a.m. Saturdays during the run. Dating back to 1909, the Detroit Circus under sponsorship of Moslem Temple of the North American Shrine, is the oldest of approximately 75 Shrine Circuses now staged across the country. Some 1,200 members of Moslem Temple will aid this year's circus.

Proceeds of the annual circus go to support Moslem Temple activities primarily directed toward continued care and treatment for crippled and burned children from this area at Shriner Hospitals and Burn Institutes.

Open daily throughout the winter, Greenfield Village has announced a special program for weekends now through March 12.

Featured is a ride in a sleigh, or carriage if there is insufficient snow, and a punch and Judy puppet show in the Town Hall, all at no charge beyond the regular village admission.

Daily throughout the winter training guides take visitors in small groups on a tour of 12 of the village's most interesting properties, allowing a greater amount of time for questions and in-depth interpretation than is always possible during the summer season. Also free spiced hot cider is served daily in the Clinton Inn tap room.

PASTOR ALAN J. BRAUN
St. Michael Lutheran Church

Each time I pass over the drawbridge to the north of us on Interstate-75, I am reminded of the drawbridge operator who was in charge of setting in motion the huge mechanism of a lift bridge so that large ocean ships could make their way out of the channel and into the ocean.

This man had a small son who loved to come along with him and watch the gears turn as the huge bridge would first lift and then close. Time after time the father warned his son that he must stay clear of the wheels and gears.

But one day the small boy got too close to the wheels, and his pants got caught in the cogs. Being so busy turning wheels and making sure the bridge was lifting for a rapidly approaching oceanliner... his father failed to notice his son's predicament.

"Father, help me!" the boy screamed. Quickly glancing back, he saw his son being pulled into the gears.

What should he do? If he saved his son by stopping the lift, the huge bridge would come crashing down on the ship and crush its thousand passengers. If he didn't, his only son would be killed.

In the midst of the cheering and waving of their festive streamers, none of the vacationing passengers noticed the tears rolling down the cheeks of the bridge operator as they passed through the drawbridge. All were oblivious to his tremendous sacrifice for their safety.

That's exactly what God the Father has done for the people He created. Like the passengers on the ocean liners, we go merrily on our way cheering and waving, oblivious to God the Father. In our rebellious and selfish ways we are headed for eternal separation for God.

Seeing our predicament, God the Father sacrificed His Son as the payment for our wrong-doings. He sacrificed His only Son that we might live forever through faith in His Son, Jesus Christ.

And Lent is the special time when believers in this Christ Jesus take the opportunity to recall what their sin caused Him to do — and the certainty of God's love for them in Christ Jesus.

Must we do anything special in Lent? Only if we want to, only if we truly desire to show our appreciation to the God who was willing to sacrifice His only Son into the death which we deserved. Christians want to respond to this tremendous love in whatever ways they can.

So what do they do in Lent? Many will happily spend more time in worship thinking about Calvary, being sorry for their sins, studying and remembering the price Jesus was willing to pay. But they'll also feel happy about the fact that Jesus did not die forever, but came back to life on Easter Day! And that they'll want to share — by word and action!

What will it be for you? Cheering and waving festive streamers, oblivious to the sacrifice of God's only Son for you on Calvary's Cross? Or will you rather eagerly respond this Lent by where you are, what you do, how you speak? Will Lent be all it could be for you?

Holidays, snow trim Red Cross blood supplies

The holiday season and several heavy snowfalls last month have seriously impaired blood collection efforts in southeastern Michigan, and the Red Cross is continuing to appeal to residents of Western Wayne County to help replenish the supply of given blood.

Usually, the Red Cross must collect between 900 and 1,000 pints of blood per day to meet the needs of patients in more than 80 area hospitals. Because of the recent slump in donations, a greater number of donors are needed each day until the blood supplies are back to normal.

Persons in good health and between the ages of 17 (with parental permission) and 66 are urged to give blood at the Dearborn Donor Center in the Village Plaza, 23400 Michigan Avenue, Dearborn (call 274-5450 for an appointment) or:

— St. Paul's American Lutheran Church, 21915 Beech and Monroe, Dearborn, from 1 to 7 p.m. Feb. 9 (call 561-0168);

— Good Hope Lutheran Church, 28680 Cherry Hill Road, Garden City, from 1:30 to 7:30 p.m. Feb. 9 (call 427-3660);

Students, lacking, shots, sent home

Local health and school officials again have sent children home from school who have not been adequately immunized.

According to Dr. Perry Stearns, director of the Wayne County Department of Health, nearly 600 new school students — mostly kindergartners — are in violation of state law, regarding childhood immunizations.

"The parents of those children have been notified of their non-compliance to state law, and they will not be allowed in school after Feb. 1, unless immunized," he said, noting that parents with religious or other objections to the immunization of their children must sign a waiver statement to this effect, available at the schools.

This is the second time in three months that children lacking immunizations, have been sent home from school. Last fall more than 2,000 exclusion orders were written by the health department officials on children not adequately immunized when they enrolled at the beginning of the school year.

Dr. Jane Polkowski, director of communicable disease for the health department, said many of the children in the Feb. 1 exclusion are the same children excluded in the fall.

"Two of the vaccines require three doses given approximately two months apart," she explained. "A child starting the series in the fall is now due for the second dose and must get that dose to remain in school."

She noted that some children had transferred into Wayne County schools without adequate immunization records since the November exclusion, and they too would be included in the exclusion period.

Free health department clinics have seen large increases in school-aged children during the last two weeks of January. Parents are urged to bring their children to these clinics as soon as possible in order to avoid long waiting periods.

Clinic hours at the county health department, located on Merriman Road north of Michigan Avenue in Westland, are 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 1 to 3:30 p.m. weekdays and 4 to 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

At the South Health Center, 21201 Eureka Road, Taylor, the hours are 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. Tuesdays and 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Fridays.

At the South Health Center, 21201 Eureka Road, Taylor, the hours are 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. Tuesdays and 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Fridays.

Any child attending the clinic must be accompanied by a parent or legal guardian. The accompanying parent must sign a consent form at the time of immunization. Parents also should bring up-to-date records with them to the clinic.

WHEREAS: The Director of Building and Safety has determined the herein described structures to be uninhabitable and a threat to the health, safety and welfare of the citizens of Romulus; and

WHEREAS: The Director of Building and Safety has, pursuant to Chapter VI, Article 3, Section 3.01, recommended that said structures be condemned and demolished; and

WHEREAS: Pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 6, Article 10 and Article 11, a hearing was held to take testimony from the Building Inspector, the owner or owners and any interested party, as to the condition and disposition of said property; and

WHEREAS: Said Hearing Officer did, after taking said testimony make a determination and recommendation to City Council to order the following structures demolished:

1. 35805 Goddard

20a55a - 56a BL4

2. 10848 Wayne (Parcels A and B)

and

WHEREAS: The City Council conducted a Public Hearing to take testimony from the owner or owners of said properties to determine any reasons that the recommendations of the Hearing Officer and the Building Inspector should not be modified, or to show cause why their building or structure should not be demolished.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: By the City Council of the City of Romulus, the aforementioned buildings or structures be demolished pursuant to, and by virtue of the authority vested herein by Chapter 6, Article 10, and Article 11 of the Romulus Code of Ordinances.

Cub Scouts gain awards at pack meet

The presentation of awards opened up the recent meeting of Cub Scout Pack 729 at Merriman Elementary School in Romulus.

Cubmaster Paul C. Michael handed out awards to Rahul Sengal, who received his Bear patch and citizen pin; Erin Scanlon, Wolf patch; Douglas Atkins, Dean Freeman, James Ogden and Jimmy Cianfarani, denner cords; Gary Harrison, Stacey Parker, Richard Zeestraten and Kerry Caba, assistant denner cords; Charles Fisher, Bobcat patch; and Mike Pogats and Will Cianfarani, athlete pins.

After the awards were presented, a special skit was presented by Den. 2. Entitled "The Robot Scientist", the cast included D. J. Buksar as the head scientist, Richard Zeestraten and James Ogden as assistant scientists, and Darren Michael as the half robot-half rabbit, who was pulled out of the magician's hat.

A cake raffle was held, with the money raised going toward pack activities. The cake was baked by Mrs. O'Bryan.

Coffee, punch and cookies were then served at the close of the meeting.

Recent activities for the pack included a paper drive Jan. 23, organized by den leader Barb Schuster and her assistant, Alice Stratton, and a Jan. 14 visit to Sugarbush Farm in Ypsilanti, where the cubs went for a sleigh ride and dined on a spaghetti dinner.

The pack's February outing will be to the Mayflower Roller Rink on Feb. 14.

The pack also is busy getting ready for the annual Blue and Gold Banquet that will be held Feb. 21. Each den will be using a different state for their table themes.

What's for lunch?

Hot turkey sandwiches, swiss steak with mashed potatoes and gravy and Coney Island foot-longs will be among the entrees served in the cafeterias of the Van Buren public schools next week.

In the elementary schools, the menu Monday will be baked sausage, mashed potatoes and gravy, applesauce, bread and butter, chilly things and milk, followed by a menu of juice, toasted open-faced cheese bake sandwiches, vegetable, cookies and milk on Tuesday.

The bill of fare next Wednesday will be open-faced hot turkey sandwiches, with side dishes of mashed potatoes and gravy, fruit, cake and milk.

Next Thursday the cafeterias will be serving soup, pizza, vegetable, pie and milk, while a lineup of tacos or American cheese sandwiches, vegetables, fruit, pudding and milk will close out the week.

In the junior high schools, the menu Monday will be beef turnovers with mashed potatoes and gravy, salad, chilly things and milk, with oven-fried chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, bread and butter, fruit, fruit Jell-O, pie and milk on tap for Tuesday.

Next Wednesday lineup will be Italian spaghetti with meat sauce, vegetables, bread and butter, fruit, pudding and milk, with swiss steak, mashed potatoes and gravy, bread and butter, vegetable, fruit Jell-O, cake and milk slated for next Thursday.

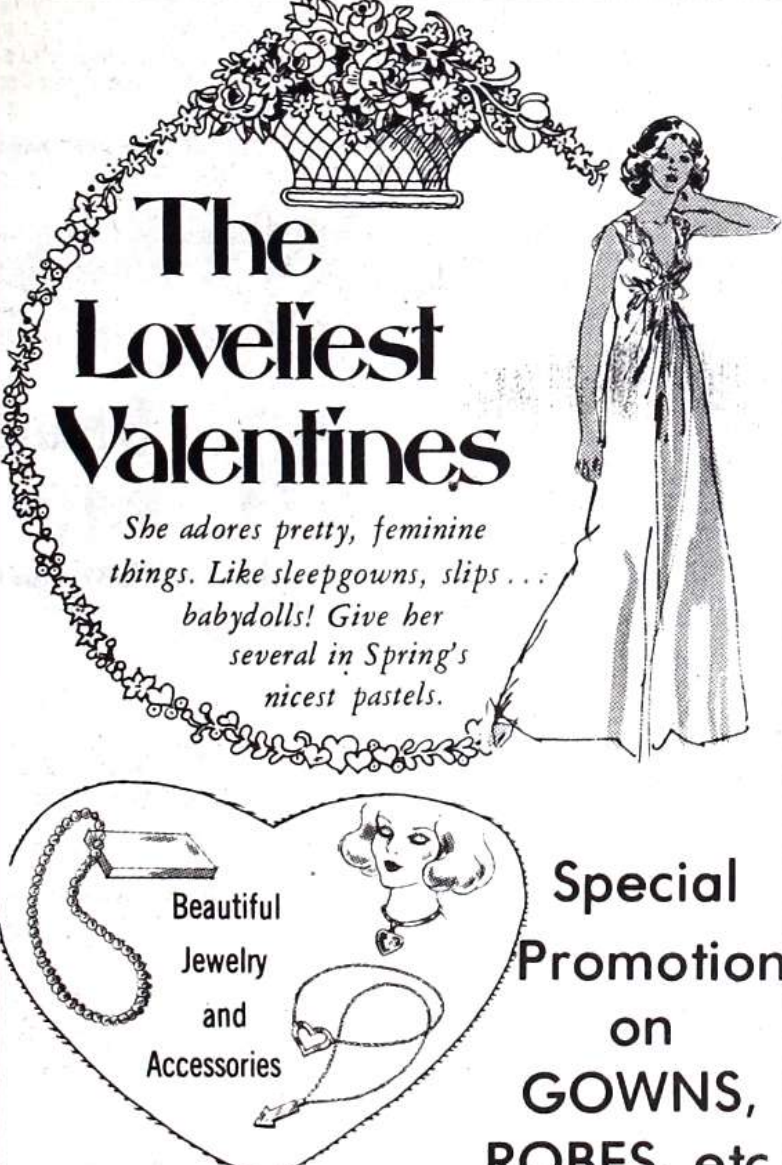

Rounding out the week will be a menu of soup, grilled cheese sandwiches, french fries, fruit cobbler and milk.

The alternate menu selections for the week will be Belleville burgers Monday, doubleburgers with cheese Tuesday, Coney Island foot-longs next Wednesday, Belleville burgers next Thursday and tacos next Friday.

(Continued from A-10) at the inn's hearth, visitors enjoy the general store and the crafts area where artisans are fashioning future heirlooms with the same skill that was practiced by generations past. During the special winter weekends visitors may conclude their visit with the free sleigh, or carriage ride, or they may wish to walk to quiet streets of the village before riding back to the gatehouse. The Punch and Judy Show is hourly starting at 11 a.m. Saturdays and 12 noon Sundays.

Be Mine: Often heard since 1300 B.C.

"Oh, 'tis love, 'tis love that makes the world go round." So said the Duchess to Alice in Wonderland. And, indeed, love is a "many-splendored thing."

It has preoccupied man and his lady since time began. And that romantic affliction comes bubbling to the surface once again when Cupid dispatches love notes by the thousands come Valentine's Day Tuesday.

A Valentine's Day card can be bright and saucy or sweet and sentimental. Either way, the thought is basically that of Euripides who wrote more than 1,300 years ago that "loves brings bewitching grace into the heart."

And here is the manner in which love has been expressed for several centuries, as compiled from the archives of the National Association of Greeting Card Publishers.

"Love conquers all things. Let us, too, surrender to love." Thus spoke Virgil in 19 B.C.

"Love comforteth like sunshine after the rain," wrote Shakespeare, who cautioned young lovers that life was fleeting: "What is love?" he asked. "'Tis not hereafter... come kiss me, sweet and twenty, youth's a stuff will not endure."

One hundred years later, love and kisses were inseparable to Robert Herrick. "Give me a kiss," he wrote, "and to that kiss a score; then to that twenty, add a hundred more." In the same period, in France, Rochefoucauld observed: "Lovers never get tired of each other because they are always talking about themselves."

It was Scotland's Robert Burns who wrote: "But to see her was to love her. Love but her, and love forever. Had we never lov'd sae blindly, never met — or never parted — we had ne'er been broken hearted."

No matter. "'Tis better to have loved and lost," sympathized Tennyson, "than never to have loved at all."

Some American writers didn't view the subject quite so romantically. "Scratch a lover and find a foe," wrote the acerbic Dorothy Parker. "Love is like the measles. We all have to go through it," opined Jerome Klapka Jerome before antibiotics.

Victims of domestic, sexual assault

2 bills would assist abuse women

Two bills, designed to assist women who are victims of domestic and sexual assaults, have unanimously passed the Senate, according to State Sen. Patrick McCollough, chief sponsor of the bills.

Senate Bill 830 allows for victims of domestic crimes to be included under the Crime Victims' Compensation Act and eligible for payment of medical expenses or for loss of work time. The bill passed the Senate by a vote of 32 to 0.

The crime victims' compensation law, which went into effect on Oct. 1, 1977, allows for victims of crimes to apply to the state for compensation for medical expenses and for wages they would have earned at work, up to a maximum of $100 per week.

"When the original crime victims' act became law, women who were the victims of criminal action with the assailant living in the same household were precluded from coverage," McCollough said. "I am pleased that this bill will provide relief to these women, who are just as victimized as women whose spouses do not live in the same household."

Senate Bill 1148, which passed the Senate 33-0, would provide for medical examinations for victims of sexual assaults. The state would pay for the medical treatment, if the prosecutor certifies that the examination is necessary for prosecution.

Under present Michigan law the victim of a criminal sexual attack, such as rape, has to pay for her own medical examination. For a prosecutor to take a sexual assault case to court, a medical examination is required.

"What has happened is that the right of many poor women were not enforced, because they just couldn't afford the medical examination, which could cost anywhere from $35 to $60," McCollough said. "Both of these bills go a long way in the battle for women's rights."

Class mixes Shakespeare and theatre

Introductory lectures and theatre going are combined in a new five-part series "Shakespeare and Bolt at the Hilberry '78" to be offered by University Courses in Adult Education (College of Lifelong Learning, Wayne State University and University of Michigan Extension Service).

Participants will hear lectures on Robert Bolt's "Vivat! Vivat Regina!" and William Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," attend both plays performed by Wayne's Hilberry Repertory Company, and then conclude with a discussion session with the actors, actresses and directors. Lecturer will be WSU professor of English, Dr. Philip J. Traci, who has conducted similar programs in the past. Dr. Traci will cover the history, language, interpretation and significance of each play.

All sessions will take place in the Hilberry Theatre, Cass at Hancock, at 2:30 p.m. March 5, 12 and 19 and 8:30 p.m. March 10, 17.

Fee including theatre tickets is $18 or $13 for those who are already Hilberry subscribers.

For registration information, telephone 577-4665.

Stony Creek marks trails

Winter's here, so plan to enjoy the cross-country ski trails daily on marked trails at Stony Creek Metropark near Rochester and Utica, suggests Bing Eberhart, assistant park superintendent.

Trails are from 1 1/4 to 1 3/4 miles in length and are designed for the beginner, intermediate and proficient skier. Eberhart said those who prefer to make their own trails may ski throughout the park except at the nature center area.

In addition to the rental fee, a security deposit of a driver's license, or $15, if insurance is purchased; or a driver's license, plus $15 — if insurance is not purchased — is required.

Special weekday group rates are available. Contact the Ski Center for details.

One hour long cross-country ski lessons are given at the Ski Center on Saturday and Sunday at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Lessons are $3 per person.

Equipment rental is available at the Ski Center at Eastwood Beach for those who do not have their own equipment. Hours are 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily.

A complete set of equipment (skis, boots and poles) rents for $4.50 per half day. Equipment breakage insurance is available for $2, and $1 is repaid when equipment is returned in good condition.

Weekday use is not nearly as heavy as on the weekends and is a good time to ski.

Snow conditions vary considerably with Stony Creek Metropark having good snow cover and only four or five miles south having little or no cover.

Phone 781-3000 (Ski Center) or 781-4242 (Park Office) for snow conditions.

Vehicle entry permits are required.

"The Nature of Photography" is the title of a family program to be presented at the nature center of Oakwoods Metropark near Flat Rock on Feb. 12 at 2 p.m.

Stan Osolinski, noted nature photographer and lecturer, will present a slide program and talk designed to help photographers on all levels take better pictures. Osolinski is the author-photographer.

To maintain services

County sets up legislative action program

State funding for a $14.9 million Legislative Action Program for Wayne County that was put together by Board Chairman John Barr has been requested by the County Board of Commissioners on an emergency basis.

Barr said early action was crucial to maintaining several public safety and medical care programs for county citizens without plunging the county into a new fiscal crisis.

Programs include the Metro Narcotics Squad and Helicopter Patrol, Township Road Patrol, Organized Bureau, probation and appeals court services (which the county claims are state responsibilities) and a special grant for operating the Walter Reuther Extended Care Facility in Westland.

In giving emergency approval to Barr's legislative package Jan. 19, the board asked the State Legislature to approve nearly $12 million in state grants and reimbursements, primarily to continue or beef-up law enforcement and criminal justice programs.

In addition, the county seeks quick state approval of a new fee schedule for 13 county services that would net $3.2 million in additional revenues. The Board of Commissioners has anticipated state approval of the new fees when it approved the 1977-78 county budget. Otherwise, additional cuts in public services would have been necessary, Barr said. Barr's proposal calls for legislative action within the next 90 days for the following services:

—Walter Reuther Facility Grant to operate through May 31, 1978, $1,700,000;

—State to pay legal counsel and transcript costs for State Court of Appeals cases, $410,000;

—Criminal Justice System Emergency Grant for nine law enforcement-justice program $2,800,000; and —State to reimburse for Circuit and Recorder's Court probation services, $6,800,000 for a total of $11,710,000.

—New fee schedules for 13 county services, $3,200,000.

In related action, the Board of Commissioners has set the stage for closing the Reuther nursing care facility, if permanent funding is not forthcoming.

The board set a March 1 deadline for assurance that funding of the Reuther operation would be forthcoming, most likely in the form of higher Medicaid reimbursements.

The board directed that a plan for closing the facility be submitted to a federal court judge by March 15, if such funding is not secured by March 1.

The board also appropriated $545,820 to maintain the Reuther building operation until March 12 in anticipation of the $1.7 million emergency grant from the state.

Barr said state officials have told him emphatically that the county is to consider this special grant as

"phase-out money" only and not "as the first of several installments to keep the reuther facility open indefinitely."

Farm types eyed

Two or three acres could prove to be an additional source of income, if properly managed. There are a number of ways to farm on various parcels of land, and the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service will offer landowners alternatives on Tuesday and Feb. 28.

The meetings will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Wayne County Intermediate School District, 33500 Van Born, Wayne.

TODAY'S DODGE DEALER'S GOT IT ALL!

At Standard Federal Savings...you have until February 14 to set up your own retirement plan... and Get a Big Break on Your 1977 Taxes, too!

At last! A genuine tax break for hardworking people, including self-employed, who don't belong to a retirement plan at work.

With an Individual Retirement Account at Standard Federal Savings, you can save for the future at the impressive rate of 7¾%. Deduct whatever you save — up to $1,500 a year — from your gross income or $1,750 if, in addition, your spouse qualifies. You will defer every penny in tax on your IRA, including the interest earned, until you withdraw your funds at retirement. At that time you will probably have less income and possibly be in a lower tax bracket.

If you look out for yourself then you should look into IRA Stop by any office of Standard Federal Savings. We'll be glad to give you the whole story.

First, read this.

The conditions of IRA are simpler than you might think. For your information, the 7¾% rate applies to deposits of not less than three years for deposits of $500 or more. Lesser deposits earn at our passbook rate.

Better yet, read this.

Pick up your copy of our helpful free brochure at any office of Standard Federal Savings or phone us at 643-9600 and we will be happy to send you a copy of our booklet.

DO IT TODAY! IF YOU DON'T LOOK OUT FOR YOURSELF, WHO WILL?

If you contributed $1,500 each year to a IRA account earning 7¾% annual interest, compounded quarterly, here's how your tax-deferred dollars grow.

No. of Years	Total Deposits	Total Earnings	Total Retirement Funds
5	$ 7,500	$ 1,998	$ 9,498
10	15,000	8,439	23,439
15	22,500	21,403	43,903
20	30,000	43,940	73,940
25	37,500	80,531	118,031
30	45,000	137,748	182,748

Federal law prohibits the payment of an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) time deposit prior to maturity and before the depositor is age 59½, except due to death or disability, unless three months interest is forfeited and interest on the amount withdrawn is reduced to the regular savings rate. Under certain conditions early withdrawal before age 59½ could result in federal excise taxes.

Hope chest 'star'

This lovely handmade quilt and many other hand-crafted items fill the "hope chest" which the Belleville Junior Study Club will be raffling at its annual card party Feb. 15 at North Junior High School. Cathy Horste (standing) holds a copy of "Water Under the Bridge", a history of Van Buren Township, which she and Diane Wilson (seated) co-authored. It, too, is one of the raffle prizes. All the items are currently on display in the window of Roberts Bros. Furniture Store on Main Street.

Former residents operating senior citizen foster home

Word was recently received from Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Clark, former Potter Drive residents now living in Mesa, Ariz., that they are the first family in their county (and possibly the entire state) to be certified as an Adult Senior Citizen Foster Home. They currently have one woman, 86-years of age, living in their "foster home." Hi and Elma will eventually be housing a few more senior citizens.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Fry and family of Haggerty Road braved the winter storm on Saturday to celebrate Norman's birthday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fry of Liberty Street.

Mrs. Mary Mumford of Riggs Road spent last weekend in Taylor visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Becky and Bill Chubb.

Bob and Shirley Fowler, former residents of Belleville, recently moved back to our snow-covered state of Michigan from Gilbertville, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald W. Tandy of Ypsilanti are the proud parents of a 9 lb. - 1 1/2 oz. baby boy named Ronald Wayne Jr. Born Jan 23 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, Ronald has a big sister, Rochelle, who's 7 1/2 years old. The proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. David O. McMullin Jr. of Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. George Brown of Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Ruth Massey of Belleville Road has returned home after spending the past three months with her daughter, Mrs. Georgia Damron in Hopkinsville, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Harris, who are on the staff at Camp Barakel in Fairview, Mich., are the proud parents of their first child, Dayna Jo, who arrived Jan. 29 and weighed 8 lbs. - 7 ozs. She is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. James Harris of Sumpter Road and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burkholder of Eaton Rapids.

The senior Harrises — Jim and Jeanette — were in Fairview over the weekend to see the new arrival.

Mrs. John Branam of Louisville, Ky. has been visiting at the Fisher Street home of her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Branam.

Lynn Akans of Ypsilanti was a dinner guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Muriel Smith of Liberty Street, on Jan. 31. Others present were Juanita Akers of Liberty Street and Mrs. Bruce Maslin of Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Stelman Eye of Bemis Road flew to Columbus Air Force Base in Mississippi to visit their son, 1st Lt. Douglas Eye, his wife Linda, and their daughter Maureen. The triowill be leaving the South on Feb. 8 and traveling to Castle Air Force Base in California for three months of special training in the KC 135 tanker aircraft.

Lt. Eye, a graduate of Belleville High School and Michigan State University, graduated from the U. S. Air Force Pilot Training School on Jan. 18.

Blizzard affords ideal reading 'vacation'

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Blizzards aren't really all that bad if — you're not without electricity, have plenty of food and drink on hand, have the convenience of the telephone, good friends who care how you're doing and plenty of good reading material to fill the hibernation period.

Such was the case at our house during the recent "Big B" which stymied so many areas and brought a halt to normal activities.

Having read several good books during the red alert and the days preceding it, we decided to share a little book review with you. The Kemelman series on Rabbi Small are particularly enjoyable, light reading with some very interesting observations on Judaism included.

Helen Mac Innes, a long-time favorite with her novels on foreign intrigue and suspense, adds to her long list of accomplishments with her "Agent in Place." And Irwin Shaw's "Nightwork" is particularly refreshing since it sticks to the plot, takes you to that never-never land of the jet setters and allows your imagination to deal with the few sex scenes rather than blatantly spelling it out for you. A fun book which leads one to wonder what he or she would do on discovering $100,000.

Too many bedroom scenes make John Mac Donald's otherwise well-written mystery a bit of a bore. But the basic plot is indeed intriguing and the inclusion of a mental institution and a few doctors with Nazi-like tendencies make one's hair stand on edge.

"WEDNESDAY THE RABBI GOT WET" by Harry Kemelman. Rabbi David Small has become one of the most endearing sleuths in modern fiction. Irascible and compassionate, innocent and wordly wise, Rabbi Small can see the third side of any question, an exceptional talent he employs, along with Talmudic reasoning and insight, to solve the high crime of murder.

Now, in his latest novel in this spectacularly successful series, Harry Kemelman once again portrays the all-too-human world of Barnard's Crossing, the New England town where Rabbi Small serves as the religious leader of the temple.

This time the rabbi becomes involved in the mysterious death of an old man with many enemies, a death that intrigues and eventually fascinates both him and the town's chief of police, Hugh Lanigan. But finding the solution to a puzzling death is not the only matter that concerns Rabbi Small. He is involved in saving the innocent from disgrace and the charge of murder while also fighting the temple's well-intentioned but erring board of directors over a question of high principle.

One of the great appeals of Harry Kemelman's novels is the way he skillfully weaves the teachings of Judaism into the plot. In this work, he presents, through Rabbi Small, a fascinating view of the Jewish attitudes toward meditation, mysticism, religious retreats and Christianity.

Those who have read Harry Kemelman's earlier novels will find "Wednesday the Rabbi Got Wet" among his very best. Those who have yet to become acquainted with Rabbi Small and Barnard's Crossing have a delectable treat in store for them.

"NIGHT WORK" by Irwin Shaw. An American in Europe with a hot $100,000 and a burning desire for the best of everything meets an elegant rogue who guides him through a world of high-priced pleasures and high-risk gambles. A beautiful titled Englishwoman cavorts with him along the razor's edge of the law. An entertaining novel by the author of "Rich Man, Poor Man" which illustrates how the rich live it up abroad.

Shaw's characters travel from one exclusive resort to another; moving as to the manor born, whether in rustic chalets where the prices are not rustic, or ordering five suits at a time from Rome's best tailor, or living in Swiss hotels that look like extension of New York bank vaults.

"NIGHTMARE IN PINK" by John Mac Donald. Nina Gibson was a designer of pretty packages and to Travis Mc Gee, that knight in slightly tarnished armor, quite a package herself. But his interest in her went beyond "companionship." She was his friend Mike's sister and her fiancé had just been murdered in the process of being mugged.

Mike wanted McGee to find out if that was all there was to it. It wasn't! McGee stumbled onto a swindle so big it took a small army of lawyers and accountants just to hush it up. It was all ruthlessly masterminded by someone who had no qualms about turning people who were in his way into something the men in white coats came after with a net. And McGee was definitely in the way.

John D. Mac Donald, besides his 16 Travis Mc Gee books, has published 47 other novels, two non-fiction works and more than 500 magazine stories. His books have sold almost 70 million copies worldwide.

"Nightmare in Pink", like his 1975 bestseller, "Dreadful Lemon Sky", is available in large print and so easy to read!

"AGENT IN PLACE" by Helen Mac Innes. Among the most dangerous pieces on the chessboard of espionage are the gullible idealist in a position of trust and the constantly vulnerable agent in place. When the idealist is duped to reveal sensitive information, when the agent in place is forced into the open, disaster strikes.

The NATO Memorandum, classified Top Secret, is the lethal prize sought by Soviet Intelligence in the deadly game that continues relentlessly beneath the dubious veneer of detente. A cryptic telephone call to a Russian "sleeper" in Washington, a mugging-murder of an unidentifiable man in New York's Central Park, an anonymous leak to the press of one section of the NATO Memorandum — and Helen Mac Innes' new adventure is launched.

A small team of specialists, led by an Englishman working under cover as a businessman, desperately moves to counter the Soviet plan and to save, if they can, the agent now in flight. Their involvement is not only professional but also personal, for friends, an American journalist and his attractive wife, are seriously implicated.

This dazzling tale races with suspense and stunning revelations to reach an explosive conclusion, with the end game played out in a deceptively serene, sunny resort on the French Riviera.

Psychologist, journalist head Town Hall series

Tickets currently are on sale for the YWCA of Western Wayne County's second annual Town Hall Lecture Series.

The series will be held at 12 noon March 1 and May 3 at the Fairlane Manor in Dearborn.

The guest speakers will be Dr. Joyce Brothers, who will discuss "Coping with Anxiety and Tension" on March 1, and Douglas Kiker, speaking on "What Will Govern America" on May 3.

Dr. Brothers is noted for her numerous achievements as a psychologist, syndicated newspaper and magazine columnist, radio and TV personality and best-selling author. She is consistently named in Gallup and other polls as among "the Most Admired Women." Dr. Brothers is known as an excellent lecturer — sharing a genuine empathy with her audience and an ability to dispense sound advice in simple language.

Douglas Kiker is best known as one of NBC's top flight reporters — for 10 years their Washington correspondent. His career also has spanned newspaper journalism for the Atlanta Journal and New York Herald Tribune and serving as director of information for the Peace Corps.

He is uniquely prepared to speak on the governance of America — since he has been thoroughly immersed in Washington's political scene for most of his career. He has covered political conventions, was in Dallas when Kennedy was assassinated, and was at the White House during the critical days of the Nixon-Ford transition.

Local women chairing Town Hall committees in addition to general co-chairmen Verity Powell of Dearborn and Mary Hall of Inkster are Margaret Terry, Carol Foss, Mary McDonald and Margaret Fulton of Dearborn, Virginia Richardson of Dearborn Heights, Violet Forbush and Yvonne Hammonds of Inkster; Lois Rice of Livonia, Carol Steiner of Romulus, Paula Boase and Pam Cimpack of Taylor and Donna Robbins of Westland.

The cost for this two-lecture series is $10.00 per lecture, including luncheon prior to the lecture. A hospitality hour begins at 11 a.m., with lunch at 12 noon, and the speaker beginning at 1 p.m.

Tickets may be obtained by sending a check to the YWCA of Western Wayne County, 26279 Michigan Avenue, Inkster, 48141. Enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope. Reserved seating is available for table of 10.

Appetizer from press dinner shared with culinary fans

An all-Michigan dinner featuring a Polynesian menu was served to members of the Michigan Press association as the climax of the organization's annual convention Jan. 28.

Hosted by the Michigan Department of Agriculture and food processors and producers of the state, the 38th annual banquet brought the flavor of the South Sea islands to Michigan's mid-winter climate.

According to B. Dale Ball, director of MDA, more than 40 Michigan suppliers provided menu items and table favors for the newspaper publishers and editors, to illustrate the importance of agriculture to Michigan's economy. About 650 persons were expected to attend the dinner at Kellogg Center in East Lansing.

The menu included Peachy Polynesian Chicken as an appetizer, made with sliced Michigan peaches, green peppers and a sweet-sour sauce. Entree was roast loin of pork with plum sauce, a nod to the traditional Hawaiian luau which features roast pig. Stir-fried green beans, carrots, and mushrooms provided an Oriental touch, while Michigan squash substituted for the traditional poi of the islands. A simple Hawaiian salad combined sliced tomatoes and chopped green onions. Dessert was Michigan-made Pineapple Supreme Ice Cream.

Beau Blanc, a premium dry, white wine, provided by Bronte Wineries of southwestern Michigan, accompanied the meal. Bronte's was the first winery in the United States to plant French hybrid vines, and Beau Blanc is a skillful blend of white French hybrids.

A recipe for the appetizer follows:

PEACHY POLYNESIAN CHICKEN
2 1/2 cups sliced Michigan peaches
1 cup peach syrup
2 cups water
1/2 cup vinegar
1/4 cup sherry wine
2 tablespoons chopped onion
4 tablespoons cornstarch
2 large green peppers, chunked
5 cups chunked cooked chicken
1/2 cup honey
4 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons soy sauce
1 teaspoon ginger
Combine liquids, seasonings. Add onion and simmer until tender. Stir in cornstarch mixed with a little water to make a paste. Cook and stir until thickened. Add green pepper chunks and sliced peaches. Fold in cooked chicken and heat. Serves 10 as appetizer or over rice for main course serves six.

Carbaret translates to 'Espanol Cantina' on February 18

The Belleville Band Boosters are busy planning their annual Carbaret program. Because the Belleville High School Band will be traveling to Mexico in the spring, the group changed the traditional "Cabaret" designation to "Espanol Cantina" to tie in with the trip south of the border.

What, you are probably asking if you're not familiar with the program, is "Cabaret?"

The evening is one of highly enjoyable entertainment which includes both danceable and sit-back-and-listen music played by the Belleville High School Jazz Band.

It will be held at the North Junior High School cafeteria from 8 to 11 p.m. on Feb. 18.

If you have never attended the Band Boosters Carbaret, you are in for a treat. Music includes current selections as well as many old familiar dance tunes of other eras. Light refreshments are also part of the fun.

Tickets are $2 for adults and $1.75 for students 13 and up. For further information, contact any member of the Jazz Band or Carbaret chairman, Mrs. M. Spino at 697-9760 after 5 p.m.

Get up a group and join in the fun at this year's "Espanol Cantina."

MISS SCHAEERER

MISS SZWARC

April, May dates chosen by couples

SCHAEERER-DeMARA

Wedding bells will ring in mid-April when Tamara Mae Schaerer and Mark Thomas De Mara, both of Belleville, exchange nuptial vows at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville.

The young couple's engagement and April 15 altar date are announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Schaerer of 48024 Bemis Rd., Belleville.

Miss Schaerer, who graduated from Belleville High School in 1976, is employed at the Park Place Party Store in Romulus.

Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. DeMara of 42430 E. Huron River Dr., Belleville, earned his diploma from Belleville High School in 1975 is now working at Bob Mount Buick-Opel in Ypsilanti.

SZWARC-SANDERS

St. Aloysius Catholic Church in Romulus has been reserved by Sharon L. Szwarc of Romulus and Carl W. Sanders of Wayne for their spring wedding.

A 1977 graduate of Romulus High School, Miss Szwarc's engagement is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Szwarc of 32185 Bruce, Romulus.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sanders of 4904 Woodward, Wayne, the prospective bridegroom lives at 5157 Winifred, Wayne.

He is a 1972 alumnus of Wayne Memorial High School now employed in Livonia at the Spring and Bumper Division of General Motors Corporation.

The couple are planning a May 20 candlelight ceremony.

New arrivals

Romulus residents Harley and Dorothy Tatman have a new grandson who arrived

Jan. 20 at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne.

The new addition to the family tree was titled "John Joseph" by his proud parents, Joseph and Marie Suda of Hillcrest in Wayne. Their first born child clocked his appearance for 8:14 a.m., his weight being recorded at 9 lbs. - 3½ ozs. and his length measured at 21 inches.

John is also the grandson of Martha Suda of Wayne.

Gary and Debbie Fox of Canton Township welcomed their second son Dec. 31 at 1:29 p.m. at Wayne County General Hospital in Westland. The 9 lb. - 8 oz. heir measured 21 and three-quarter inches in length.

He and his brother, Gary Jr., are the grandsons of Russell and Gail Robinson of Westland and Lawrence and Regina Fox of Garden City.

Their great-grandmothers are Frances Brown of Detroit; Alice Robinson of Southgate and Hazel Fox of Taylor.

The Wise Dieter

By FLORINE MARK

Smart shopping for smart eating

Just as a prudent businessman protects himself by "getting it in writing" when he consummates a deal, a wise dieter can achieve protection from food traps by committing to a contract before entering a supermarket.

The contract actually is an agreement with oneself to shop intelligently. If you're a dieter and you find yourself "cheating" because there are foods available around the house that shouldn't be there, you are having an experience common to many others every day.

The best answer to the problem is to make certain that foods you know you shouldn't eat simply aren't available.

Promise yourself when you set out to shop that you'll purchase wisely. Then, get the promise in writing and sign it.

Here's a sample contract: "I will buy only for the present. I will not stock up for the future with foods which are a problem for me."

The formality of making an agreement with oneself and signing it might seem contrived, but it's based on some very sound reasoning.

First of all, it makes you keenly aware of your mission — to shop in a fashion designed to HELP you maintain your diet. Secondly, it emphasizes being honest with yourself, which is an absolute necessity for making your willpower work.

All of us face a daily barrage of media advertising structured to send us scurrying to the market to buy things we wouldn't normally purchase.

The commercial messages not only sell directly. They also contain, in many cases, persuasive underlying themes which suggest that buying their product is necessary to show love for family or to achieve emotional comfort.

An ad promoting cake mix might show mom going through the easy steps of profusely as they dig in with ecstatic smiles.

How do you defend against such a compelling approach?

It's wise to look critically at what the advertiser is trying to tell you and determine if it's really true. Do you need the cake mix to prove you love your family? Will you really be doing your family, or yourself, a favor by buying and using it?

The same selling approach is faced within the market. All manner of sweets, cakes, pies and cookies are packaged to suggest that you will prove yourself a lovely angel if you'll only serve them to your family.

In the market, as at home, you should think carefully about whether the message the producer is sending you is true.

Once you've cultivated a critical and analytical defense against the selling patterns of foods you should avoid, some very practical steps can be taken to prepare for forays to the market.

Before you set out, make a shopping list that you'll stick to precisely. It's much easier to "pre-shop" wisely than to open yourself to the temptation to buy impulsively.

Be certain that you go to the store after you've had a good meal and when you're in a relaxed and happy frame of mind. When you're hungry, you tend to buy more and to buy much less carefully. When you're tense or you have the "blues", you are prone to buy certain goods as an artificial means of buoying your spirits.

If possible, shop with a friend who is as concerned as you are with buying only needed foods. The team approach helps. Dieting means taking charge of your own life.

When you shop for food, keep that in mind. Commit yourself to the principle that you are shopping for your own good.

Then, put your commitment in writing. You'll find it most gratifying to keep a contract with yourself.

Quotes worth quoting...

"Matrimony is a process by which a grocer acquires an account the florist had."

Frances Rodman said it.

MCC offers calendar

The Michigan Consumers Council has a 1978 Consumer Calendar available for consumers who want to know more than the date.

"Certain consumer problems are seasonal," said executive director Linda Joy. "That's why we've designed this calendar. Each month describes a particular consumer problem and gives an appropriate phone number to call for assistance."

"Many consumers don't realize they can call toll-free to some government agencies for help with certain problems," Joy added.

Consumers who would like a copy of the 1978 Consumer Calendar can write the Michigan Consumers Council, 414 Hollister Building, 106 W. Allegan, Lansing 48933. There is no charge for the calendar.

Be my Valentine

Next week is Valentine's Day and, if you're like a lot of other women, you're at a loss as to what to give that man in your life. Since the way to a man's heart, as we've all heard, is via his stomach, why not put your culinary talents to work and surprise him with a special Valentine dessert. Strawberries are always a winner and this meringue recipe (shaped into hearts, of course!) may be the solution to saying "Be my Valentine."

Former resident extolls UP's virtues during big blizzard

A former Belleville resident who takes a keen interest in what's happening in her old home town (through this newspaper) also is one of the state's most avid supporters and best PR people.

Mrs. Louise Birk Dempsey, who now makes her home on U.S. 2 near Moran in the Upper Peninsula, sends the following letter to share with her friends and all readers of The Belleville Enterprise and The Romulus Roman.

"So—we've had a blizzard—and one of the worst ones in Michigan history, some people tell us.

As we view all of the disaster, tragedy and helplessness because of the most beautiful and remarkable little white specks which God created, there is no way possible to question His reasons for their presence.

So you say, "But Mrs. Dempsey, it must have been simply terrible where you live across from Lake Michigan!" Let me answer by saying I wouldn't exchange my life here at present for the most elaborate year-round home you could find for me in Florida. And I know Florida; a month's vacation would be fine—in later life possibly.

No doubt all, or the greatest number of Lower Peninsula residents, are wishing they could head for Florida right now. Naturally each has a preference. How very boring it would be to see green all season long! There are places one can traverse to and reach each season within weeks but this is no challenge. Possibly California might be one such state with its beautiful redwoods. But there is no more spectacular sight than to see our gorgeous, majestic pines laden with snow.

We've been literally snowed in due to the fact we are on U.S. Highway 2 and there is no way that old snowplow can prevent throwing snow. Our state plows are a credit, and more so the men who operate them day and night in visibility, zero!

We have no National Guard assistance here but each person in our small community is "National Guard." For example: medicine that is vital to my well being was stupidly left in the refrigerator at our cottage a week ago. Three days past due. Over a mere conversation on the phone and my mentioning my plight, friends said, "Get your snowmobile outfits on and I will go get it." I informed them it would be difficult due to very deep snows, an unopened road to the cottage at the time and difficulty getting into the house. A "no" simply would not be accepted so off we went.

The greatest part was that I had my first snowmobile ride and now I'm wondering what to sell to get a snowmobile of my own. I almost lost a leg and a boot plowing through the snow but what great fun! Deer tracks led right to the edge of our two picture windows which had snow up to the same ledge.

You would think this was enough activity for two senior citizens but no way! We wanted to see more snow so home we went to change and then off we went to the "Soo" to take in the movie, "Across the Great Divide"; stopping to call on a friend who had severed his patella (kneecap) while riding his snow machine directly to the rear of our property. Desire for a snowmobile wavered slightly at seeing his predicament but accidents are a daily happening in our North County and are superbly handled by excellent physicians and surgeons not too far distant.

How many people have ever peered out of their living room window to see a huge ore-carrying freighter frozen in the ice with lights shining; making one realize that there is Someone bigger than we taking care of us?

Lake Michigan is soon going to be our ice rink and we are still mastering the snow shoes but it is a great life. His wonders!

Blizzards! One hears the word and wonders how our pioneer settlers survived. We have our problems indeed, don't let me fool you. But the peace and ability to live as one desires compensates a hundred fold.

Winter sports are great in the U.P. Seeing is believing."

Thank you for listening."

Mrs. Louise Birk Dempsey.

Two area students now PN's

Thirty recent graduates of Washtenaw Community Colleges Practical Nursing Program have passed the State Board of Nursing licensing examination, according to Norman Lederer, Dean of Occupational Studies.

"This is the third class to complete the practical nursing program at the college," Lederer reported. "We have had 100 percent pass who have taken the state examination. That is real success and is testimony to the excellent teaching staff in the nursing program." Local residents completing the examination were Terry R. Soja of 1064 Sumpter Rd., Belleville, and Deborah L. Wahrman of 15660 Wahrman Rd., Romulus. Other graduates were from Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Brighton, Gregory, Manchester, Monroe, Taylor, Tecumseh and Whitmore Lake.

Ben's day

One of America's best-known historical figures, Benjamin Franklin, was born Jan. 17, 1706. In the 84 years that followed, Ben became a candle maker, printer, writer, inventor, postman, diplomat and one of our founding fathers.

A visit to Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn can reintroduce observers to Franklin's life and times. There visitors can see an early Franklin press, a bust of the great man by famed sculptor Houdon and even watch craftspersons making candles the old fashioned way.

A strawberry affair

Have an affaire d'amour with strawberries... even in February.

Luscious, ripe strawberries now are available frozen and preserved. Frozen strawberries, which are convenient and easy to use, can be purchased sliced and sweetened in 10-ounce cartons or whole and unsweetened in 20-ounce bags. Serve sweetened berries with flair over pound cake, ice cream or custard, or envelope unsweetened strawberries in fruit salads, compotes or frothy blender drinks.

Strawberry preserves and jam are unexcelled as toppings for hot biscuits and toast, spooned over cheesecake, or in a sumptuous English Trifle.

And don't forget strawberry yogurt and ice cream—two more delicious ways to savor the taste of strawberries.

On Valentine's Day serve a fanciful dessert: Strawberry Valentine Meringues. It's an enchanting way to say "be mine."

This dessert can be made early in the day and refrigerated until serving time. First prepare the meringue shells, but instead of making them round, shape them into hearts. A secret to making meringue shells is to bake them in a slow oven, turn the oven off, and let them sit about one and one-half hours with the door closed.

In the meantime prepare the filling, a luscious blend of strawberry gelatin, sour cream and frozen strawberries. Spoon into the hearts and chill.

If you love strawberries—don't resist them now, mon amour.

Strawberry Valentine Meringues

1 package (3 ounces) strawberry flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
¼ cup sour cream
1 teaspoon lime or lemon juice
1 package (10 ounces) frozen sliced strawberries with sugar, thawed

Meringue hearts (recipe follows)

Dissolve strawberry gelatin in boiling water. Chill until syrupy, then beat at high speed with electric mixer until frothy. Blend in sour cream, lime juice and berries. Refrigerate to partially set. Spoon into meringue hearts. Chill until serving time. Makes 8 servings.

Meringue Hearts

3 egg whites
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
¾ cup sugar

Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until foamy. Gradually beat in sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, until stiff and glossy. Shape meringue into 8 hearts on foil or brown paper-lined baking sheet, building up sides. Bake at 275 degrees 1 hour. Turn off oven; let meringue set in warm oven with door closed 1½ hours. Cool. Makes 8 meringue shells.

Estate planning classes set

A series of seminars of Estate Planning for Families is being offered by the Cooperative Extension Service three Thursday evenings beginning March 2, from 8 to 10 p.m. at the Ardis Elementary School, 2100 Ellsworth Rd., Ypsilanti. Like all Extension programs they are open to all persons regardless of race, color, creed or national origin.

Some of the topics to be discussed by estate planning professionals are the new gift tax and estate tax laws, wills, probate, trust, life insurance and investment as they relate to estate planning.

"Making an estate plan may be the most important step a family ever takes, regardless of age, stage or value of assets," says Helen

Fairman, Extension Home Economist. "Families with no plan may discover too late for them which they may not like...one which is often costly in terms of delay, stress and benefits lost for the loved ones to be provided for."

Topics to be covered in the series include the legal aspects of estate planning...ways of owning property, who inherits what and how, Michigan laws of descent and distribution; wills; probate; how death and property taxes affect an estate; the roles of life insurance and trusts in estate planning; and investments as they relate to conservation of income from the estate.

Estate planning professionals to discuss these topics will be Eugene B. Calder, attorney; Sherman Harrington, certified public accountant; Thomas Dew, trust officer; a stockbroker; and Robert C. Hughes, attorney and chartered life underwriter.

Interested persons can register for the series by mailing $2 per family unit to: Estate Planning, Cooperative Extension Service, Box 8645, Ann Arbor, MI. 48107. Include name, address, phone number and number of persons attending. A program and map will be sent provided the registration is received by Feb. 22. For more information call 973-9510.

Farm families should inquire about a similar series geared to their special needs Thursday evenings during February.

Glenn claims district wrestling title

Area has 39 regional qualifiers

There is a new master of the Class A district wrestling tournament. And it's none other than Westland John Glenn who rallied its forces to capture the coveted Class A district title at Ann Arbor Huron on Saturday.

Glenn emerged from the battlegrounds at Huron with four gold medalists, a pair of runners-up and two fourth place finishers. They polled 156½ team points to edge Plymouth Salem for top honors. Salem had 147 points, 10½ more than third place Wayne which had one less regional qualifier than Glenn.

"We're very happy and proud to win the district championship," said Glenn Coach Bob Lusk. "I felt our kids did an exceptional job. Unfortunately, we lost a couple of kids who didn't qualify for the regional — that always hurts."

The area produced 38 regional qualifiers who will assemble Saturday morning at Ypsilanti High to wrestle for regional glory and a ticket to the state finals which will be conducted a week from Friday in Kalamazoo, Michigan in the facilities of Western Michigan University.

Glenn earned district titles at 98 with Paul Demers and was also first with Tim O'Neil (105). Bill

The search for a league continues

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

"Ike" Eisenhower was completing his second term as the President of these United States when the then 32-year-old Ed Baum decided to accept a teaching and coaching position at Romulus High School.

Over a span of 21 years, Baum has coached and taught high school students and touched the lives of literally thousands of people.

Friday night, some of those who remembered the man showed up to pay tribute to Baum, who "after a lot of deliberation decided to end his 'honeymoon' with athletics." An illness has forced him to the sidelines.

"Over the years there have been changes," Baum said. "But, I think, basically the kids are the same. Some are eager to learn, others are not; we have the outstanding athlete, and those who will only play high school ball.

"But I have loved doing what I have done these past two decades and, after all, that's what really counts," Baum said.

There were a host of dignitaries present for "Ed Baum's" night. Mayor William M. Oakley presented Baum with a proclamation, while James Garfield, superintendent of schools, cited the "ole AD" for his outstanding work.

Also on hand were former coaches and teachers who had worked with Baum over the past 21 years.

There was something that Baum wanted but couldn't pull off. Let him explain:

"We have tried almost every avenue and approach to become affiliated with a league, unfortunately none of the area leagues or conferences will consider us.

"I feel that that is a great injustice to our kids and school — because we do have a lot to offer not only in the way of athletics but in the exchange of thoughts and ideas."

Romulus is being boycotted by the Suburban Athletic Conference (Rouge, Highland Park, Inkster, Robichaud and Ecorse) since the disbandment of the Twin Valley. For the past seven years — has it been that long? — Romulus has fruitlessly attempted to join one of the leagues.

Seven years? Oh, how time flies!

Compromise ends WW debate

Compromises have headed off many disasters and apparently one was averted last night. The prestigious Western Wayne Invitational Swimming and Diving Meet was nearly a "thing" of the past.

Apparently, some of the coaches didn't take to the expanded format and were about to boycott the meet set for this weekend. Some even wanted to organize their own "Western Wayne."

The problem was solved when the schools agreed to split the field into two divisions — and that will be a first for the meet which is now 16 years old.

"What we have done," related Jean Garbus, who is the meet secretary, "is to place the teams that finished in the top seven a year ago in the first division and the others in the second.

"And the competition will be held at two sites," Mrs. Garbus continued. "Wayne will host the first division teams, while Westland John Glenn has the second division squads."

Belleville, which has won the last three WW's, will defend its title and seek the First Division championship against the likes of Cherry Hill, Plymouth Canton, Plymouth Salem, Livonia Franklin, Thurston and Wayne Memorial. Wayne will host the first division teams with the preliminaries getting on the way at 3 p.m. Friday and the finals set for 2 p.m. on Saturday.

The Second Division teams will head for Glenn on Friday for a 3 p.m. preliminary and the finals scheduled for 4 p.m. Rabid swim fans will see teams representing Garden City East, Garden City West, Robichaud, Willow Run, Livonia Stevenson, and Livonia Bentley at the Westland based high school pool.

There is a $1 admission charge for the finals. See you next week!

Tigers trounce Trenton

It was one game that even Coach Tom Niemi could relax.

Niemi's Tigers out at Belleville crushed Trenton 66-46 and for once the Belleville coach was able to go to the bench early and watch a game without wondering about the outcome.

"I was pleased at the way we played," Niemi offered after the Tigers had nailed down their fifth Suburban 8 Conference victory in seven starts. "This year Trenton doesn't have the size as they did in the past — we were able to dominate the boards."

Belleville outrebounded their league rivals 48 to 27 with Kelvin Patterson accounting for 15 and Elvis Currie pulling down 10.

Belleville built up a 20-14 first period lead and, for all purposes, the scrimmish was over when the Tigers exploded to a 37-23 halftime advantage. They were on to outscore the Trojans 13-7 in the third period while each team put 16 points on the

New East swim king Wayne dethrones Cherry Hill

Revealing that they not only have the depth, but the frontrunners, Wayne Memorial returned to Garden City East after an absence of two years to dethrone Cherry Hill at the 16th annual East Invitational Swimming & Diving competition.

A dazzling three-event victory by Wayne's Schleicher paved the way for Coach Jim McPartlin and the Zebras' victory.

"It was truly a team effort," commented McPartlin afterwards. "We had 20 kids in the finals and won eight of the 11 events."

Wayne compiled more than 100 points more than the defending champ. The Zebras picked up 367 points as compared to Cherry Hill's 210. Trailing the two leaders were Westland John Glenn (179), Clarenceville (156), Garden City East (86), Dearborn Heights Annapolis and Garden City West, each with 75.

Schleicher turned in a 2:12.6 to win the 200-yard individual medley and then went on to post a 1:00.9 in claiming the 100-yard backstroke. Earlier, Schleicher combined with Jim Watts, Mike Balwinski and Brian Hewett to take the 200-yard medley relay.

Cherry Hill went into the meet without its all-state swimmer, Rick Kogelschatz who has been hospitalized with a severe sinus infection. Kogelschatz may not be available for the Western Wayne Invitational scheduled for this weekend at Westland John Glenn.

"I really don't know when Rick will return to our line-up," said Cherry Hill Coach Jerry Pawloski. "As it stands now I'm afraid we won't have him until the state meet and that is also a question mark."

Scott Lillie was the lone Spartan winner. The senior, also a member of the elite all-state club a year ago, stroked a 23.0 in winning the 50-yard freestyle.

TEAM RESULTS
1. Wayne Memorial - 367 2. Cherry Hill - 210 3. Westland John Glenn - 179 4. Clarenceville - 156 5. Garden City East - 86 6. Dearborn Heights Annapolis and Garden City West - 75.

Drawing first blood

Alpena drew first blood Friday night when Steve Sequin (21) sank the initial basket of the game despite the efforts to block by Romulus' John Kersey (30). But from thereon, Coach Rod Hanna's young Eagles took over and sent the northern visitors home thinking about a 77-65 defeat. Romulus returns to the hardwood Friday night, traveling to Marine City. They'll be trying to extend a modest 3-game winning streak.

Romulus cagers win for Baum

It was obvious from the beginning that Romulus wasn't going to spoil the evening for retiring athletic director, Ed Baum.

So the cagers took up light housekeeping under visiting Alpena's basket and cleaned up on their northerly visitors 77-65.

Baum, who is stepping down as head of the athletic department after more than 20 years as AD, was honored by members of the board of education, the city and county officials for his "contribution to education and athletics" Friday night.

Because of illness, the soft-spoken

Baum has decided to end his long honeymoon as head of the athletic director, but he will remain in the school system as an assistant principal at South Junior High.

Alpena led only once — when Steve Sequin tapped in the first basket of the game, then Romulus' Darryl Lewis and Vincent Bean took over. Lewis got the equalizer and brother, Richard, sank the go-ahead basket and it was all Eagles the rest of the way.

The hosts pulled away by six, 20-14, at the end of the first period and led by the same number at halftime, 40-34.

Alpena came out shooting the second half as Kevin Anderson, who tossed in a game high 28 points, sparked the rally. He scored eight of those points in the third period, but Romulus bolted from a 44-43 lead midway in that period when Lewis pumped in two consecutive baskets to lift the hosts to a 53-45 vantage point.

Romulus pulled away by as much as 10 points in the fourth period when Herb Buckley came through with a pair of baskets.

"We beat a good 11-3 team," said Romulus Coach Rod Hanna. "Alpena has good talent and jumps well for its size. Our boys wanted to win this one for Ed (Baum) and they were sky high."

Richard Lewis paced Romulus' balanced scoring attack as he connected on 10 field goals and a free throw for 21 points. Buckley pumped in 18 points, while Darryl Lewis counted 16 and Bean finished with 14.

The victory extended Romulus' win streak to a modest three games and boosted its overall record to 7-4. The Eagles will hit the road Friday night, traveling to Marine City.

Belleville set to defend WW title

John Glenn to host 2-day, 14-team competition

SAM VICCHY

Coach Sam Vicchy and Belleville swimmers have won more Western Wayne Swimming & Diving championships than any area team.

But this year the veteran Tiger skipper will have to defend his title from the likes of Suburban 8 Conference rivals Plymouth Salem and Livonia Bentley who are included in the expanded format of the invitational.

The invitational which will include some 14 area teams will get underway Friday with the preliminaries at 4 p.m. The finals are scheduled for 4 p.m. on Saturday. Westland John Glenn will host the meet.

"We have won six of the last seven and have a string of three victories," noted Vicchy, "but this year it's really going to be tough. With the field expanded to include Bentley and Salem, along with Plymouth Canton, it's anyone's guess what the outcome of the meet will be."

One of the teams that has a shot of destroying Belleville's monopoly on the meet is undefeated Wayne Memorial which is coming off of an impressive victory at the 16th annual Garden City East Invitational. Wayne will get an excellent warm-up Thursday night when it takes on Monroe, a team that is considered capable of detouring Coach Jim McPartlin's title express.

Other area teams that will compete in the WW Invitational include: Cherry Hill, Livonia Franklin, Livonia Churchill, Garden City East, Garden City West, Dearborn Heights Robichaud, and possibly Livonia Stevenson and Willow Run.

Meanwhile, Belleville bounced back from its first conference loss at the hands of Dearborn to subdue Redford Union 113-58 in a conference meet. The Tigers swept seven of the 11 first places as Coach Vicchy released some of his previously untested swimmers against the R.U. lineup.

Back door basket

Hugging the baseline, Romulus' Richard Lewis (32) flies towards the Alpena rim to drop in two of his 21 points that enabled the Eagles to stun the northern visitors Friday night. The 77-65 victory climaxed ceremonies for Ed Baum, who retired as Romulus' athletic director after serving as a coach and AD for more than two decades.

Over 30 hockey leader upset, 3-2

Scoring twice in the final period, Four-Seasons Sports Shop stunned league-leading Extra Point Bar in their confrontation last week in the Westland-Wayne Over 30 Hockey League.

Norm Beasley, who has been the mainstay of the Four-Seasons' attack, got the decisive goal with seven minutes left in the game. The winners had to finish the game two men short as the result of penalties and held off a furious Extra Point counter-attack.

Jim McCusker and Ernie Kelm scored for the winners, while Vern Springer and Mike Pouper tallied for the losers.

The loss however didn't affect Extra Points' first place status, but the Four-Seasons has maneuvered within a half-game of the leaders.

The two arch-rivals will meet again before the end of the season, in fact, the two are scheduled to clash in the final game of the regular season.

Gamefish award

Chet Kosi, 14167 Elwell Road, earned a Gamefish Release Award in the Metropolitan South Florida Fishing Tournament when he caught and released 6 barracuda.

He fished out of Key West Oceanside Marina with Capt. Wayne Spencer as guide. He will receive an arm patch and Year Book with his award at the close of the Tournament.

Belleville, Salem split Suburban '8' mat title

While Belleville's Gerald Malecek complained "his team didn't get any help from others," the Tiger wrestling coach's counterpart at Plymouth Salem was pouring on the superlatives over his squad's performance at the annual Suburban 8 Conference Wrestling Championships.

The two teams wound up sharing the league title after Salem came up with 187 points to win the tournament phase of the league, while Belleville's perfect 7-0 record and a second place at the conference meet gave it the other half of the title.

"We just didn't get any help from the other schools," pointed out Malecek whose team won the championship a year ago. "Trenton lost five matches to Plymouth kids by only one point. That enabled Plymouth to get those kids into the finals."

Malecek noted that "Plymouth had to go for broke in order to get a slice of the title."

Salem's Ron Krueger had nothing but praise for his Rocks. "We put our best team on the mats at Edsel," he said. "And we didn't have any letdowns. I figured there was only one spot where we lost where we could have won."

Krueger, who is rounding out his seventh year as head coach - and that's how many years the wrestling program has been in existence at the high school.

Trailing Salem and Belleville at the conference meet were Trenton (126), Edsel Ford (108), Dearborn (69), Allen Park (58 1/2), Redford Union (27) and Livonia Bentley (17).

Salem chalked up five gold medals thanks to Jeff Brown (98), Randy Vipperman (107), Jimmy Ross (128), Wally Brown (167) and heavyweight Bob Dasher. They were runners-up with Steve Ernst (114), Rene Leist (121), Bruce Piper (180) and Bob Doherty (193). Roger Penix (140) and Bob Barackman (134) were third and fourth, respectively.

Belleville equalled Salem's gold output with Joe Justin (119), Carl Winekoff (138), Rick Winekoff (145), Stan Johnson (155) and Bob Cook (178). The Tigers were second with Mark Ford (126), and Jeff Rose (132), while Rick Briggs (191) and Ed Paris (105) were third and Leon Moore (165) finished fourth.

North dunks Glenn

North Farmington showed Westland John Glenn why it is considered the team to beat in the Northwest Suburban Conference swim circuit this year.

North dunked the Westlanders 96-76 to ruin Frank Higgins' debut as the Rockets' head coach.

"We didn't swim well," said Higgins whose team has amassed a 6-3 over-all record after whipping Garden City West 106-51 in a nonleague meet last week. "We're inexperienced and that hurts, but I feel we're going to improve a lot before all of this is over with."

Glenn salvaged three of the 11 first places over the superior North forces and two of those were by Bob Rankin who covered the 50-yard freestyle in 24.3, and posted a 53.1 in winning the 100-yard freestyle.

John Pettit had the only other Glenn victory. He turned in with a 1:05.0 to take the 100-yard backstroke.

Title is at stake

Stage set for Glenn '5', N. Farmington rematch

A popular song of the 40's probably describes the importance of Westland John Glenn's upcoming game with North Farmington the best. It goes:

"All or nothing at all..."

That's the predicament Coach Gordie Davis and his Rockets are in despite the fact that they have beaten North once this year. The Westlanders can't afford to lose Friday night's rematch with the North buries Franklin

Franklin cage coach Jim McIntyre believed that his cagers were ready for title hopeful North Farmington Friday night.

The Raiders, with their eye on the Northwest Suburban Conference championship, proved him wrong.

"It's strange," said McIntyre after his team digested a 66-43 loss at the hands of North, "we probably had our best two practices during the week. And we had beaten Dearborn earlier, so I felt we were ready."

The Patriots weren't.

Franklin fell behind 17-8 the first period and never really recovered. The Raiders, behind their superior board strength, took a 34-19 lead into the dressing room and came back to outscore the Livonians 13-6 in the third period. Out front 47-25 after three periods, the Raiders fiddled around while the Patriots burned in the last quarter.

"I feel our kids wanted the game too much," McIntyre explained. "We tried too hard and everything we threw up there didn't go in while it did for them."

Center Chris Baker kept the Patriots in the game most of the first half as he pumped in 17 points and hauled down 11 rebounds. He was the only Franklin player in double figures, though John Zannis had eight.

It was Zannis who led the upstart Patriots to a dazzling 60-56 comeback behind victory over Dearborn earlier in the week. Zannis tossed in 20 points and had a handful of assists.

Dearborn grabbed a 16-8 lead after one period and capitalized on Baker's early exit from the game because of early foul trouble.

McIntyre abandoned his man-to-man defense and pressed the rest of the night, forcing the Patriots into a rash of turnovers which Zannis and Jeff Reich out to good use as uncontested layups.

Franklin came back to snatch the lead away from Dearborn at the intermission, 30-27. Each team scored 14 points in the third period and the Patriots had a slim 16-15 edge in the final eight minutes.

"The departure from the man-to-man to a full-court press in the second period was the key to the game," McIntyre said. "They had problems adjusting and we capitalized on their turnovers."

scoreboard in the final eight minutes.

Patterson, playing less than 2 1/2 periods, scored 19 points on eight field goals and three free throws. Herb Burrus chipped in with 17 while Chris Koger added nine.

Belleville hit on 45 percent of its shots from the field (28 of 62), as compared to Trenton's 16 of 58 (28 percent) shooting performance. At the line the Tigers made 10 of 15 as compared to Trenton's 14 of 25.

Though Livonia Bentley has lost two games, both were non-league affairs and the Bulldogs remain the team to catch. Plymouth Salem and Belleville are two games out of first, each sporting 5-2 records.

It'll be a busy week for Niemi and the Tigers who, after facing Redford Union Tuesday night, will clash on the homecourt Friday against Edsel Ford. Then, on Tuesday, they will meet Allen Park.

Will the clock strike 12?

Wayne's 'Cinderella' cagers continue to win

Wayne cagers are having a ball. And Coach Chuck Henry's "Cinderella Team" is living it up, especially in the Great Lakes where, after dropping their first three, have turned around and won seven straight, including a victory over league-leading Taylor Truman.

The one question that remains unanswered for the Zebras as they creep up the standings, (they're presently in second place) is, "Can they stop the clock from striking midnight?"

You know what happened to Cindy when the clock struck 12.

"I really feel that we have matured and jelled," said Henry after his team went out and avenged an earlier loss to Lincoln Park. "We're going to the boards, getting balanced scoring and our defense is improving."

Henry pointed out that since the Christmas Holiday his team has not lost.

Wayne got an unexpected break in its rematch with Lincoln Park. They discovered that 6-5 forward Mark Polenz had returned to Taylor Truman from where he made a quick departure last September when the passage of a millage was in question.

With Polenz to help on the boards, Lincoln Park was at the mercy of Darnell Morris who picked off 13 of Wayne's 40 rebounds and scored 19 points for the evening. Wayne had the edge on the boards 40 to 28.

Though close the first two periods - Wayne had the advantage after the first eight minutes 14-12 and 26-22 at halftime, the game was decided in the third period when Morris tossed in 11 of his team's 17 points.

Bob Boertje sank 13 points, while Matthews and Bob Carroll split 10 points apiece for the winners who made 40 percent of their shots from the field and eight of 13 at the foul line.

Earlier in the week Wayne Memorial had a difficult time shaking Taylor Center off its shoulders. The Zebras pulled out a hard-earned 48-44 victory as Morris and Matthews paced the attack with 18 and 16 points, respectively.

Taylor, which never got closer than four points, nevertheless, kept the outcome of the game in doubt. Wayne led 19-9 and 30-25 after the first two periods, then outscored the defending champs 12-6 in the third period before giving up 13 points to their six in the last eight minutes.

After getting a look at Monroe Tuesday night, the Zebras travel to Wyandotte on Friday before coming home Tuesday to greet their St. Valentine's visitors, Westland John Glenn.

Glenn slaughtered Wayne during the Holiday Tournament and the Zebras will be out for revenge.

Glenn caps perfect league year with Northwest crown

Perennial Northwest Suburban Conference wrestling champ Westland John Glenn continued its monopoly of the conference championship last week as the undefeated Rockets picked up their 11th league title in 12 years.

Coach Bob Lusk's Rockets devoured their league rivals, beating their closest opponent, North Farmington, by more than points. The Westlanders also had six of the 13 individual champs.

"I felt the kids wrestled well and it was a good warm up for the district tournament," remarked Lusk. (Glenn went on to win the Class A District Championship at Ann Arbor Huron.) "I'm very proud of these kids. We have had some ups and downs, but it can be expected. Over-all we have had an excellent season and hope to fare well at the regionals."

Glenn wrestlers head for Ypsilanti on Saturday for their regional exams. The survivors will travel to Kalamazoo's Western Michigan University the following weekend for the state championships.

Meanwhile, the Westlanders can bask with the knowledge that they have six league champs, four runners-up, a pair of thirds and a fourth place medalist off of their performances at the league meet.

Earning Northwest Suburban Championships from Glenn this year were: Paul Demers (98), Tim O'Neill (105), Greg Hamel (126), Mike Collin (145), Rich Eisiminger (165) and Jeff Doyle (178).

The Rockets' silver medalists included Scott Swain (132), Mickey Bauer (138), Bill Meyer (155) and Greg Potulski (191).

Terry O'Neill (119) and heavyweight Jerome Robinson finished third and 112-pounder Dave Gillies wound up fourth best in the league at his weight class.

Glenn brought the curtains down on a perfect Northwest Suburban Conference season by downing Thurston 30-24.

Huron has 'evil eye' on league-leaders

Though it really doesn't matter when it gets down to the league title chase, New Boston Huron would like nothing better than to knock off league-leading Tecumseh Friday night.

Mired in the middle of the standings with a 5-5 (9-5 over-all) record, Coach Gene Smith's Chiefs will go after the 9-1 team "as if the championship decided upon the outcome."

"I would like nothing better than to know them off," said Smith whose team split last week with conference rivals. Huron downed Monroe Catholic Central 83-74 before losing to Airport 72-62.

Huron hit a cold streak in the second period against Airport and stayed in its shadow the rest of the evening. Trailing 14-12 after the first eight minutes, the Chiefs struggled off the floor behind 35-25 at the half. Both teams tossed in 13 points in the third and 24 points in the final period, respectively.

"We came within two points of making up the difference with 2½ minutes left," related Smith, "but we never got the equalizer. They just had too much for us that night."

Three Huron players counted double figures with Mike Knight's 18 as tops for the game. Randy Pichan checked in with 14 and Gene Reitz sank 12 for the Chiefs who canned only 12 of 24 at the foul line.

Pichan led the attack against Monroe CC as he scored a career high 36 points, hitting on 16 field goals and four free throws. Reitz supported the sharpshooting junior with 18 points.

Coach Smith may have released his bench a bit prematurely as Monroe came back and scored the last 13 points of the game to make it look closer that it was. With 2:23 left, Huron had a 23 point lead.

The Chiefs jumped out in front 23-14 and outscored their rivals 18-15 and 19-14 in the two middle periods.

"It was a sort of pride game with us," explained Smith. "They had defeated us by 20 at their place and we wanted to reciprocate. Pichan just had a super game against them."

Reitz had 10 assists to go along with the 18 points.

AUTO FACTS
By Chet Kosin

The fuel that eventually reaches the cylinders is a misty vapor usually composed of about 15 parts of air for every part of gasoline. It is the job of the fuel system to supply the correct mixture of the two ingredients at all times regardless of the engine's speed, load, and temperature. The gasoline is drawn by a fuel pump from a storage tank in the rear. It passes through at least two filters before it reaches the carburetor. The air enters the engine compartment through the grille and is scooped into an air cleaner before being drawn downward to become part of the fuel mixture.

AUTO TIP:
The carburetor should supply a very rich fuel mixture for a limited period of time when the engine is cold and idling.

Kennedy brings Cherry Hill 'down to earth'

Spartans' cage winning streak snaps at 9

Coaches warn their players about "complacency" which has been the pitfall of many teams.

But Cherry Hill cagers got the message a bit too late as the undefeated Spartans saw their nine-game winning streak crash at Taylor Kennedy, 70-67.

The loss, though it didn't affect Cherry Hill's first place image in the Tri-River Conference, did send waves throughout the conference. Teams got the message that the Spartans aren't invincible after all.

"You can tell kids about being too complacent," said Cherry Hill Coach Dick McNally, "but they really don't get the word until they feel it first hand. There's nothing like a loss to bring a team down to earth."

McNally said that he had to accept partial blame for the loss, "because the team wasn't really mentally ready to play."

Kennedy struck fast. The Patriots jumped to a 19-10 first period lead and never trailed. The hosts remained in the lead 43-32 at the intermission and refused to give up.

The Spartans continued to chase Kennedy in the second half and, though they outscored their rivals 10-8 and 25-19 in the final two periods they never caught up.

The game was decided at the foul line where Cherry Hill missed five one-and-ones and five other foul shots. They wound up with 19 of 34 at the line as compared to Kennedy's 28 of 37 charities.

Though Kennedy had only three players left when the final whistle blew, the last two departed with only 10 seconds remaining on the clock. The game had been decided before their departure.

"It was our worst game and I'm happy we got it out of our system," McNally said.

The Spartans wasted a 27-point scoring performance by Tyrone Jordan who led all scorers. Teammate Floyd Simmons added 11.

Cherry Hill returns to the conference battleground Friday night as host to Dearborn Heights Crestwood, a team that still is in striking distance of the league leaders.

Co-captains

Two good reasons why Wayne Memorial swimmers are undefeated this season are co-captains Karl Stabler (in front) and George Hills who are keying Coach Jim McPartlin's team's drive for an unprecedented third straight Great Lakes 8 Conference title. Wayne will host the I Division teams of the Western Wayne Swim & Diving Invitational on Friday.

Robichaud places 4th at districts

Leaping from an 18th place to a fourth place in two years, Robichaud's wrestling program is making giant strides.

Coach Sam Ellis' grapplers qualified four wrestlers and picked up their first two gold medals at the Class B district wrestling tournament which the Dearborn Heights high school hosted last Saturday.

"In a short time of three years we have come from the bottom of the district to near the top," Ellis pointed out. "Our program is only three years old and we finished fourth — that's pretty good I would say."

Robichaud also had its first two district champs as Terry Watson claimed a gold in the 115-pound class, defeating South Lyon's Wally Evasi's 13-12. Teammate John Lucas decided Clarenceville's Dale Bednar, 9-2, to win the 194-pound title.

Robichaud's outstanding senior, Robert Yauck, finished second after a controversial bout with Leon Brian of Chelsea. Yauck, leading with a minute to go, was pinned by his rival.

"I don't feel that that was a pin," Ellis said. "It was close, but I don't feel it was a pin."

Robichaud's fourth qualifier is Brian Ceckiewicz who won a third place medal after defeating Madison's Scott Robinson in the consolation round of the 141-pound class, 7-5.

The four wrestlers will advance to the Class B regional tournament which will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. at Willow Run.

Grissom's world

Steelheaders' lament

By SAM GRISSOM
Outdoor Writer

Starting this month, and reaching its high point in April, is the strangest of all afflictions known to man. It is called Steelheading or Big Fish Fever. I hope that the following monologue explains this phenomenon.

The house needs painting, the roof needs fixing; I can't find the time to do it all. And the steelhead are running. The yard needs to be raked, and I should prune the fruit trees. But the steelhead are running.

The wife said Saturday is our anniversary and we should do something together; but wouldn't you know it, there's a change in the weather. Our wedding vows didn't mention steelhead the little woman nags. "Buddy, please pass me my spawn bags."

Yep, 15 pounds 9¼ ounces was my biggest 'bow. I caught him the December the second boy was born. Or was he the third?

It's ten above zero and starting to snow, but Buck says they're running. My waders are leaking and I think my foot is frozen. This is crazy.

I just saw one jump so I guess I'll try it a little longer. My legs are numb and I can't feel my fingers; but I can't quit now without at least one hit.

My wife says I'm crazy, and maybe she's right but I pray up in heaven there are steelhead to fight.

For those of you who are interested in taking up steelheading, the Detroit chapter of the Michigan Steelhead Salmon Fishermen Association is holding a Steelhead Clinic on the site of the Homestead Dam on the Betsie River.

The clinic will be held on February 18th starting at 8 a.m. They will be covering every method being used for trout in Michigan. It will be an excellent opportunity for novice and expert alike to go pick up some worthwhile information.

In a little over a month and a half the fishing will once again resume in earnest. If you haven't started getting your equipment in shape you haven't much time.

Reels have a tendency to pull small bits of debris and dirt into their gear boxes. You should tear them apart and give them a good cleaning if you want to be certain that they will function smoothly all summer.

Wolverine matmen strike gold

The Wolverines launched their 1978 wrestling season at the Van Dyke Wrestling Club Novice Tournament last week and chalked up three gold medals.

Chad Prater claimed a first in the 72-pound class in the 8 and under age group, while teammate Richard Curtis won the gold at 68-pounds for 9 and 10 year olds. Also coming home with a first place was David Curtis who was the top performer in the 78-pound category for 11 and 12 year olds.

The Wolverines also received a pair of third places off of the performances of Shawn Dalfi (72-pounds) and Robert Page (77-pounds).

This year the AAU age group wrestlers are coached by brothers Al and Nick Paciocco, former John Glenn wrestlers, and Cliff Williamson.

Another plateau for Long

University of Detroit All-American forward hopeful Johnny Long of Romulus scored 26 points against St. Peter's which pushed his career total to 1900 points.

Long, who led Romulus to the state regional finals, is only the second Titan in U-D history to hit that plateau.

Meanwhile, guards Wilbert McCormick and Kevin Smith each handed off 12 assists vs. St. Peter's. If established collegiate career highs for each.

 US-12 From I-275 East to C & O Railroad
 PUBLIC MEETING

The Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation will have representatives present at a public meeting from 4:30 P.M. Tuesday, February 14, 1978, in the I.M.C. Room of the Walker Elementary School, 3932 Michigan Road, Wayne, Michigan.

The purpose of this meeting is to provide the opportunity for the public to drop in and discuss future improvements to US-12 from I-275 east to the C & O Railroad in Wayne County. It is the intent of the Department to not only invite, but also to encourage, citizen involvement and participation in the US-12 study. It must be stressed that this is not a public hearing of the recommended highway improvements, as there have been none selected. The purpose of the meeting is to gain input, at the earliest stage of the study, from local residents and to stimulate communication and cooperation.

Brochures will be available for your review at the Wayne City Hall after January 30, 1978. Additional information may be obtained by contacting: Jack E. Morgan, Manager Public Involvement Section Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation, P.O. Box 30050, Lansing, MI 48909 or Chru-An Chuang, Route Location Engineer Design Division, Bureau of Highways Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation, Lansing, MI 48909

In addition, information on this project, or any Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation planning project, may be obtained by calling toll-free 1-800-292-9576.

TOYOTA TRUCK SALE $150

Over Dealer Cost

One extra long. Both extra tough. Choose the standard bed or the extra large 7-foot bed. Either way you're in for one tough truck! Both are powered by a responsive 2.2 liter SOHC engine. So you can haul up to an 1100 pound payload with ease. And because they're Toyotas you know they're quality engineered and built tough to last! Standard Bed or Long Bed - either way it's a tough choice. See them today.

Standard features you don't pay extra for:

- 2.2 liter SOHC engine
- Flood bed on Long Bed
- Power-assisted front disc brakes
- Fully transistorized ignition
- Mud flaps
- Electric fuel pump
- Power-boosted tie-thru ventilation
- Zinc-coated muffler
- Cargo tie-down hooks

RUSTPROOFING.
EITHER YOU HAVE IT OR YOU DON'T

Car makers don't build the rustproof car and no car dealer can deliver the real rustproofing you get with the exclusive Ziebart process.

Don't be misled by some sweeping references to "anti-corrosion methods" used in building some 1977 cars. Real rust-proofing must be done after the car is built. And it must cover every critical area inside and under the car. That's the proven Ziebart method. There are no shortcuts. That's why your Ziebart Dealer uses nine different patented spray tools to reach rust-prone areas. That's why he uses a rustproofing sealant that actually penetrates welded seams where rust can start. Your Ziebart Dealer can deliver a rustproofed 1977 car because that's his business - and he knows it. Call him.

LIVE LIKE ROYALTY

If you are a Professional Real Estate Salesperson, are you living the lifestyle you should for the amount of sales that you make? Or, are you helping someone else live the kind of lifestyle you should be living because of the 50/50 split? Would you like to earn 100% of that commission that you work so hard for? Well, if you would then you should be calling us at RE/MAX right now! At RE/MAX we've done away with that outdated practice known as the 50/50 split. Our people earn 100% commission.
